MR. BORDEN AT TORONTO

The Premier, in Opening Exhibition, Speaks on Duties and Responsibilities of Citizenship

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 25.—Under auspices of the most favorable character the Canadian National Exhibition today entered upon its thirty-fifth year. At the moment when the Right Hon. R. L. Borden, Prime Minister, in his most felicitous manner, declared "This exhibition formerly open," every element combined to make the occasion worthy of the genius of a great institution.

"On a day such as this," said Mr. Borden, "there is no consideration of party, or race, or creed. United by the ties of our common citizenship, justly proud of our labors and of our institutions by which they secured; rejoicing in the splendor of our common inheritance and looking forward with the highest confidence to even more wonderful progress and development, let us not fail to realize the responsibility imposed by the vastness of the heritage which it has pleased Providence to entrust to the Canadian people.

"In remembering those responsibilities, we should ever be mindful that we are not only children of the great Dominion, but of the still greater Empire and from whose loins we have sprung, of those who made unlimited sacrifice, endured untold hardships and wrought mighty deeds in the years gone by to the end that Canada might remain a part of the British Empire, and that the flag which we delight to honor must continue to float over this fair land. The memories which are thus recalled, the traditions which have thus descended to us, the charges thus committed to our keeping, must never be forgotten when we are called upon to consider and to estimate the duties and obligations of our citizenship."

Mr. Borden was accompanied by Mrs. Borden and Hon. G. E. Perley, Mrs. Perley and Hon. J. D. Reid.

WILL RETURN FROM MEXICO

Mr. Lind, President Wilson's Personal Representative, Says Good-Bye to Foreign Minister

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—President Wilson will read his message on the Mexican situation at the Capitol tomorrow.

This was decided at midnight, following the receipt of a message from Mr. John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, that he had said good-bye to Foreign Minister Gamboa, and would leave Mexico City tomorrow. Negotiations, so far as Mr. Lind is concerned, have been terminated. The United States will receive any further proposals through Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy of the American Embassy.

The future course of this Government will be one of non-interference, in the hope that the effect of its present efforts and the pressure of foreign Governments will constitute a moral suasion that ultimately will bring about peace in Mexico.

The message makes it plain that there will be no lifting of the embargo on arms; that no faction or Government in Mexico will be allowed to receive munitions of war from the United States. If necessary, the President proposes to increase the American border patrol to enforce this policy.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25.—The murder of Fitzhugh Lawton, a British subject, and Thaddeus von Thaden, a German, on Senor Iturbide's ranch in Western Michoacan, was officially reported today. The British Minister has sent notification to his home office. The Government has promised the British Minister that the murderers would be punished.

TO RUSH WORK ON NEW UNIVERSITY

Dr. Wesbrook Returns From Extended Tour and Will at Once Confer With Board of Governors.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 25.—Dr. F. F. Wesbrook, president of the British Columbia University, arrived in the city today after a tour which embraced most of the leading universities of Canada and the United States. He was accompanied by Mr. G. T. Sharp, of Sharp & Thornton, the firm of local architects which has the contract for designing the new University buildings.

Dr. Wesbrook is here to stay and will at once confer with the board of governors regarding plans for future work. Offices will be opened in one of the business blocks immediately, which will be the headquarters for doing business. The plans will be drawn up and construction started as soon as possible.

In course of an interview with a representative of The Colonist Dr. Wesbrook pointed out that his trip had more than ever convinced him that great consideration should be given to the plans in advance to avoid any mistakes and to decide upon a comprehensive and definite scheme, as they may be required.

He said that in some of the universities he had visited he had seen as many styles of architecture and as many kinds of building material as were known to man, and some that were not known. Some portions of the buildings were so out of keeping with the rest of the structure that ivy was trained over the most glaring outrages.

Tells of Trip

In all the trip he was glad to say he had never seen a more beautiful site for a university than Point Grey, or where the potentialities were so great.

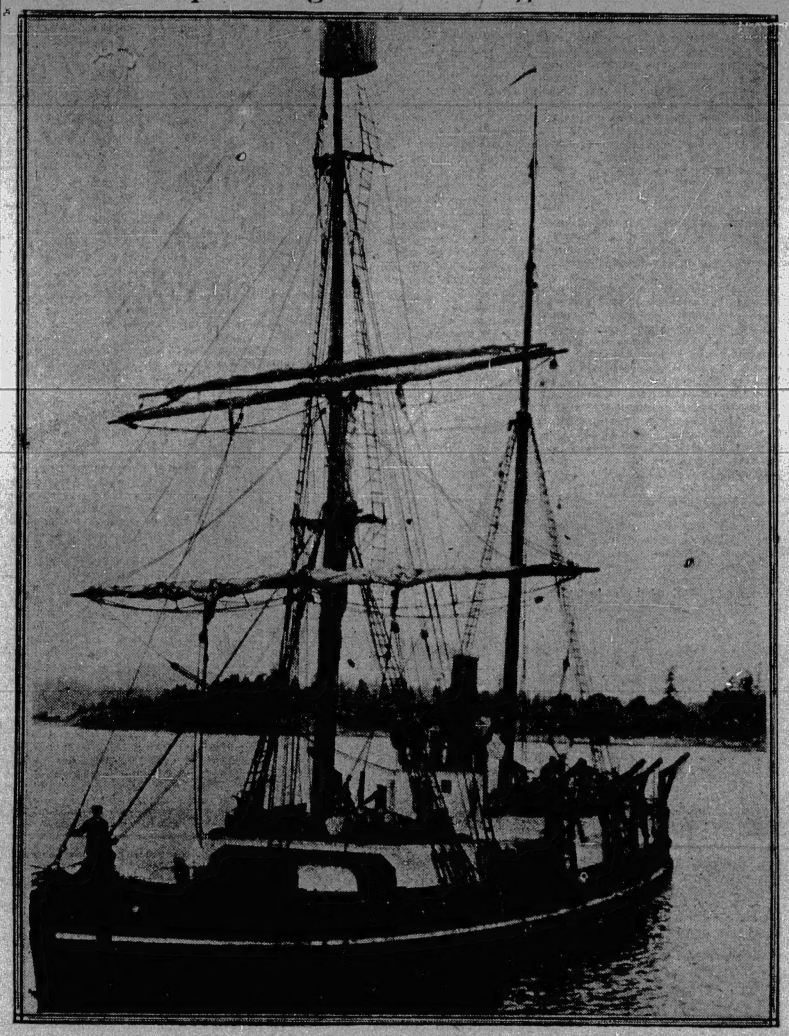

The trip was to study plans, building materials and the relation of the different college buildings to each other. The first part of the trip was devoted to a study of the state universities of the middle West. They visited Minnesota, Wisconsin, Chicago, the Northwestern University at Evanston, Lincoln, Neb., Missouri, Washington University at St. Louis. In the East they visited John Hopkins at Baltimore, which is being entirely rebuilt, the University of Pennsylvania, Columbia, Cornell, Yale, Harvard, Princeton and the Massachusetts College of Technology.

On coming to Canada they visited Dalhousie University, the college at Truro, Mount Allison at Sackville, N.B., McGill, Queens, Toronto, and the Agricultural College at Guelph. They then proceeded to Minnesota and Winnipeg. He stated that he visited the new Agricultural College in Manitoba, which it is the aim of the Manitoba Government to make the finest institution of the kind in the world. Afterward they visited the universities at Saskatoon and Edmonton. Dr. Wesbrook stated that he had traveled 25,000 miles since January.

FINE WEATHER WORTH MILLIONS

Farmers of Saskatchewan Are Favored With Ideal Conditions for Harvesting Their Big Crop.

SASKATOON, Sask., Aug. 25.—Dean Rutherford, of the Agricultural College, intimates that one million acres of wheat in Saskatchewan are being cut daily. Taking the average yield at twenty bushels per acre, which Hon. W. C. Sutherland estimates is most conservative, this means that twenty million bushels of wheat are being cut daily. Taking 70c as the average price a farmer will receive per bushel, it means that every day of such weather as prevailed today and on Saturday is worth about $14,000,000 to the farmers of this Province.

Binders at Work

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Aug. 25.—Harvesting in the Portage la Prairie district is now going on apace. Threshing started today at the farm of Leader Brothers. The past few days have proved ideal for operations in the field, and, as a consequence, binders are to be seen on all sides. Plenty of help is obtainable. Threshing will be general by Thursday or Friday.

Warm Weather Beneficial

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 25.—In the immediate vicinity of Moncton, crops of all kinds are looking well, some of the grains being a little backward, due to the cold rains in the early part of the Summer. The fine warm weather of the last month has been very beneficial, and they will be up to or above the average. Hay is reported light in some sections, but in other districts the crop is good.

Southern New Brunswick

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 25.—Recent rains, general throughout Southern New Brunswick, has been of untold value to farmers. The hay crop was light, and grains will prove short in straw, but with normal conditions from now until the harvest, the heads should be well filled.

TO ADJUST DIFFERENCES

Grand Trunk Railway Company Telegraphers Have Applied for Board of Conciliation

OTTAWA, Aug. 25.—The Department of Labor is in receipt of an application for the establishment of a board of conciliation and investigation under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act to which all matters in dispute between the G. T. R. Company and it as railway telegraphers, comprising operators, station agents and despatchers, to the number of 1,500, employed on the company's entire system.

The employees referred to have been in conference with the company for some little time past, relative to the adoption of certain wages and conditions of employment. It is understood that a settlement was reached on some points at these conferences and that the application covers the wage schedule and other matters still outstanding. The application is under consideration by the Hon. C. J. Doherty, Acting Minister of Labor.

EARL GREY ON CO-OPERATION

Former Governor-General of Canada Speaks at Congress of the International Alliance at Glasgow.

GLASGOW, Aug. 25.—Co-operation as the basis of the ideal state of the future was the keynote of the address of Earl Grey, former Governor-General of Canada, at the opening of the Congress of the International Co-Operative Alliance here today. Co-operation has put a barrier against the tyranny of the trusts, he said, and would reconcile the warring forces of labor and capital.

Six hundred delegates were present, representing two million members of co-operative societies in America and Europe, and Eary Grey's view, enunciated with much fervor, was loudly applauded.

He declared that the application of co-operative principles to the industrial life of Great Britain, the United States, France, Germany, Denmark and Ireland were proved by the substitution of organized distribution for unorganized distribution, co-operative buying for individual buying, co-operative buying and marketing for individual selling, and the co-operative use of power for individual use of machinery.

Lower Cost of Living

The wants of both producer and consumer could thereby be met more effectively at a smaller cost, thus securing a reduction in the cost of living and a greater command not only of the necessaries, but the comforts and conveniences of life, and to the producer a substantial increase in the amount of profits available for distribution, which meant an increased fund from which alone could be drawn the high wages all desired for the underpaid workers.

In the civilized world the remarkable growth of the co-operative movement justified the confident expectation that a day of new social order was at hand.

Although the delegates, continued Earl Grey, might be separated by differences of races, language and religion, they had met as one people under the flag of co-operative fraternity, carrying in their hearts the same motto: "Each for all and all for each."

All who in their hearts had the well-being of their fellowmen, he urged, should do their utmost to promote the transition from present conditions to a social state in which the spirit of fraternal co-operation could prevail.

INTERESTING RUMOR

London Daily Graphic Says Prince Arthur of Connaught Will Succeed His Father in Canada

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Daily Graphic claims today to be in a position to state that Prince Arthur of Connaught will succeed his father, the Duke of Connaught, as Governor-General of Canada, and that the Duke will formally hand over the office and introduce him to the heads of the Canadian executive before returning. On leaving Canada, the Duke will regard his public career as having definitely ended, and proposes to settle down at Bagshot Park, devoting his time to the development of a stud farm scheme for the rearing of horses suitable for use by the army.

The Graphic adds that it is by no means certain that the Duchess will accompany the Duke and the Princess Patricia back to Canada.

The wedding of Prince Arthur will entail a certain strain upon Her Royal Highness, and not until the end of the next few weeks will the decision as to going to Canada be definitely made. Should a further stay in England prove necessary for the Duchess, the Princess Patricia will act as hostess during the whole of the official ceremonies in the Dominion, and will accompany her father upon the extensive farewell tour that he hopes to take through Canada, prior to leaving for good.

FIGHTING AT NANKING

Northern Forces Are Closing in on City —Both Sides Have Suffered Heavy Losses

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25.—The Northern forces are closing in on Nanking, where much desperate fighting has taken place during the last fortnight. Casualties have been heavy, and many wounded have been brought to Shanghai.

The Northerners have now finally captured Purple Mountain, the Western ridge of which had changed hands many times.

General Chang Hsun, of the Government forces, has depended more upon fierce assault than upon military skill.

FINE WEATHER WORTH MILLIONS

Farmers of Saskatchewan Are Favored With Ideal Conditions for Harvesting Their Big Crop.

SASKATOON, Sask., Aug. 25.—Dean Rutherford, of the Agricultural College, intimates that one million acres of wheat in Saskatchewan are being cut daily. Taking the average yield at twenty bushels per acre, which Hon. W. C. Sutherland estimates is most conservative, this means that twenty million bushels of wheat are being cut daily. Taking 70c as the average price a farmer will receive per bushel, it means that every day of such weather as prevailed today and on Saturday is worth about $14,000,000 to the farmers of this Province.

Binders at Work

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Aug. 25.—Harvesting in the Portage la Prairie district is now going on apace. Threshing started today at the farm of Leader Brothers. The past few days have proved ideal for operations in the field, and, as a consequence, binders are to be seen on all sides. Plenty of help is obtainable. Threshing will be general by Thursday or Friday.

Warm Weather Beneficial

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 25.—In the immediate vicinity of Moncton, crops of all kinds are looking well, some of the grains being a little backward, due to the cold rains in the early part of the Summer. The fine warm weather of the last month has been very beneficial, and they will be up to or above the average. Hay is reported light in some sections, but in other districts the crop is good.

Southern New Brunswick

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 25.—Recent rains, general throughout Southern New Brunswick, has been of untold value to farmers. The hay crop was light, and grains will prove short in straw, but, with normal conditions from now until the harvest, the heads should be well filled.

Rt. Hon. Sir Francis Hopwood, Civil Lord of the Admiralty, Expected in Capital This Week

OTTAWA, Aug. 25.—Right Hon. Sir Francis Hopwood, Civil Lord of the Admiralty Board, will be in Ottawa the latter part of the week. He has been spending some time in the United States and will motor over to Canada from Rouse's Point.

As far as can be ascertained, Sir Francis' visit to the Capital is of an unofficial character, although he will have an interview with Premier Borden.

TO ADJUST DIFFERENCES

Grand Trunk Railway Company Telegraphers Have Applied for Board of Conciliation

OTTAWA, Aug. 25.—The Department of Labor is in receipt of an application for the establishment of a board of conciliation and investigation under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act to which all matters in dispute between the G. T. R. Company and it is railway telegraphers, comprising operators, station agents and despatchers, to the number of 1,500, employed on the company's entire system.

The employees referred to have been in conference with the company for some little time past, relative to the adoption of certain wages and conditions of employment. It is understood that a settlement was reached on some points at these conferences and that the application covers the wage schedule and other matters still outstanding. The application is under consideration by the Hon. C. J. Doherty, Acting Minister of Labor.

EARL GREY ON CO-OPERATION

Former Governor-General of Canada Speaks at Congress of the International Alliance at Glasgow.

GLASGOW, Aug. 25.—Co-operation as the basis of the ideal state of the future was the keynote of the address of Earl Grey, former Governor-General of Canada, at the opening of the Congress of the International Co-Operative Alliance here today. Co-operation has put a barrier against the tyranny of the trusts, he said, and would reconcile the warring forces of labor and capital.

Six hundred delegates were present, representing two million members of co-operative societies in America and Europe, and Eary Grey's view, enunciated with much fervor, was loudly applauded.

He declared that the application of co-operative principles to the industrial life of Great Britain, the United States, France, Germany, Denmark and Ireland were proved by the substitution of organized distribution for unorganized distribution, co-operative buying for individual buying, co-operative buying and marketing for individual selling, and the co-operative use of power for individual use of machinery.

Lower Cost of Living

The wants of both producer and consumer could thereby be met more effectively at a smaller cost, thus securing a reduction in the cost of living and a greater command not only of the necessaries, but the comforts and conveniences of life, and to the producer a substantial increase in the amount of profits available for distribution, which meant an increased fund from which alone could be drawn the high wages all desired for the underpaid workers.

In the civilized world the remarkable growth of the co-operative movement justified the confident expectation that a day of new social order was at hand.

Although the delegates, continued Earl Grey, might be separated by differences of races, language and religion, they had met as one people under the flag of co-operative fraternity, carrying in their hearts the same motto: "Each for all and all for each."

All who in their hearts had the well-being of their fellowmen, he urged, should do their utmost to promote the transition from present conditions to a social state in which the spirit of fraternal co-operation could prevail.

London Daily Graphic Says Prince Arthur of Connaught Will Succeed His Father in Canada

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Daily Graphic claims today to be in a position to state that Prince Arthur of Connaught will succeed his father, the Duke of Connaught, as Governor-General of Canada, and that the Duke will formally hand over the office and introduce him to the heads of the Canadian executive before returning. On leaving Canada, the Duke will regard his public career as having definitely ended, and proposes to settle down at Bagshot Park, devoting his time to the development of a stud farm scheme for the rearing of horses suitable for use by the army.

The Graphic adds that it is by no means certain that the Duchess will accompany the Duke and the Princess Patricia back to Canada.

The wedding of Prince Arthur will entail a certain strain upon Her Royal Highness, and not until the end of the next few weeks will the decision as to going to Canada be definitely made. Should a further stay in England prove necessary for the Duchess, the Princess Patricia will act as hostess during the whole of the official ceremonies in the Dominion, and will accompany her father upon the extensive farewell tour that he hopes to take through Canada, prior to leaving for good.

MORE LEGAL OPINION ON WATER QUESTION

Acrimonious Council Debate on Sooke Project Results in Decision to Have Full Advice on All Points.

After a three-hour discussion, distinguished chiefly by acrimonious crossfiring, personalities and repeated calling in question of the ruling of the Mayor on points of procedure, the City Council last night got a little further on its way in regard to a decision as to the placing before the ratepayers of a by-law to authorize the expenditure of the additional $1,500,000 required to complete, according to the estimate of cost recently submitted by Water Commissioner Rust, the Sooke Lake water works project.

Alderman McNeill submitted a resolution calling upon the city solicitor for an opinion on the legal status of the proposition as it at present stands, such opinion to be based upon a full consideration of all maps, plans, profiles, etc., the changes, if any, made in the specifications upon which the contract of the Westholme Lumber Company was based, and the specifications and plans upon which the recent bids for pipe line materials were called for. Alderman Gleason submitted a resolution to the effect that the recommendation of the water commissioner that a by-law for $1,500,000 for the completion of the work he submitted be accepted, and that the city solicitor prepare the necessary by-law, and that the matter of the arranging of the data to be placed before the ratepayers relative to the reasons for the additional by-law be left to the finance committee to prepare.

Alderman McNeill's resolution was carried at the conclusion of the debate, and that of Alderman Gleason was defeated, but those who voted against it expressed themselves as quite ready to deal with it later, when the solicitor's opinion was before them.

Some Warm Words

The debate was reminiscent of old times, when the Sooke Lake project was being strenuously debated three years ago. The mayor, in a speech containing a defense of the officials, including the water commissioner and Mr. Meredith, consulting engineer, criticized certain of the aldermen, whom he did not name, with seeking to defeat the project, alleged they were betraying their trust and ended in a panegyric on his own motives and efforts to further the Sooke system. Personality was the chief feature of the mayor's remarks, and the frequent objections and points of order raised by Aldermen Cuthbert and McNeill brought the acting chairman, Alderman Gleason, into conflict with them, and threats of calling the police and even a promise by Alderman Gleason to personally chastise Alderman Cuthbert were made, though the acting chairman admitted it was his distance from the alderman which prevented this feature of the prize ring tactics from being introduced into the discussion.

Consulting Engineer Meredith was present to answer any questions which the aldermen might choose to ask, but his duties in that respect were comparatively light.

The meeting, while the regular weekly session of the board, was devoted wholly to the Sooke project, and other matters of business were postponed until a special session next Friday night.

City Solicitor Robertson submitted an opinion in answer to questions put to him at Friday night's meeting. In regard to the validity of by-laws authorizing waterworks loans by reason of statutory provisions respecting Victoria West, he stated that the Corporation of Victoria Water Works Act was passed in 1872 and amended in 1892. The first act gave power to borrow money and to issue debentures; the second, by section 14, provided that notwithstanding anything contained in the said first-mentioned act, or the amending act, the city shall not distribute water within Victoria West except on certain contingencies. Then, again, in 1909 a further amending act was passed which confirms previous legislation, and refers to the scheme of conducting waters from Sooke watershed, and section 5 thereof grants borrowing powers to borrow money for waterworks purposes.

City Has Power

"In view of the fact," stated the solicitor, "that after the passing of the legislation respecting Victoria West, by a subsequent act the city is given power to borrow money for waterworks purposes, chargeable upon the security of the waterworks system and property and the credit of the corporation, I think that the city has statutory power to pass a by-law authorizing the borrowing of money for the purpose of this system."

Further the solicitor, in regard to the suggested change in the concrete pipe by increasing the diameter from forty inches to forty-eight inches, gave the opinion that "inasmuch as the contract with the Westholme Lumber Company, which is now being performed by the city at the expense of the said company, and pursuant to section 15 thereof, is expressly declared to be for the object of completing the work of the delivery of 16,000 000 gallons of water daily, and inasmuch as the contract approved under by-law 1156, in conformity with by-law 814, recites the work to be the supplying of the above-mentioned number of gallons daily, I think that the provisions of the contract authorizing changes by the engineer would not justify an alteration of this nature, which would involve a largely increased daily water supply. The effect would be that the Westholme Lumber Company could repudiate liability under contract and claim damages, and also the surety company would be discharged."

As to the new specifications in connection with the work now about to be undertaken by the water commissioner pursuant to section 15, the city solicitor expressed the opinion that the changes mentioned therein are within the power of the engineer to make in conformity with section 10 of the general provisions of the contract, and that the surety company would in no way be discharged thereby.

Further Legal Opinion

Alderman McNeill, in submitting his resolution for a further opinion of the solicitor after the latter had all the plans, etc., before him so that he could see exactly in what particular changes have been made, referred to the fact that the people when they had first voted on the scheme had not had all the facts before them. Whatever ideas he might personally have relative to Goldstream, he was determined to do his utmost to see that the Sooke project is carried through. When the matter was first before the electors there were two extreme views. Supporters of Goldstream were accused of "graft," and people who declared the Esquimalt company's holdings were but "pot-holes and skunk cabbage" are now crying for Goldstream water. The people were told the whole work would cost not more than $1,500,000. They were not told that the consulting engineer's estimate on preliminary surveys put the cost at $1,700,000, and that other estimates were at about this latter figure. If the ratepayers had then known that as a matter of fact the work would cost $3,000,000 or more they would have regarded the project in another light. The consulting engineer should then have advised the Council that the work could not be completed for $1,600,000, but the Council adopted that figure, and it was responsible to that extent.

Alderman McNeill also contended that the 40-inch pipe was too small. It would give about 13,000,000 gallons or a little more, and that quantity, by the time the work is completed, will all be required by the city. The consulting engineer was not to blame, for he had been asked by the Council to prepare plans of a plant providing that quantity. The tunnel scheme was, Alderman McNeil believed, the proper one, but the Council did not adopt it because it would involve litigation with the Esquimalt Waterworks Company. Now the engineer says that scheme may be resorted to later when a larger supply is required. Accordingly the city will apparently be faced at a later date with that same question of litigation.

More Information Needed

In view of the pending litigation with the Westholme Lumber Company Alderman McNeill urged that a further legal opinion on the whole present status of the work be secured. The ratepayers are entitled to the fullest information before being called upon to vote another $1,500,000. Alderman McNeill also called attention to the fact that the Council has never yet been asked to decide upon what policy should be followed following the ousting of the Westholme Lumber Company. The water commissioner went ahead with the work, but no decision of the Council relative thereto was asked or given.

Alderman Porter also urged a further legal opinion in order that every point would be safeguarded. It is, he believed, time to adopt the railway crossing advice and "stop, look, listen."

Alderman Cuthbert reiterated his opinion expressed at the Friday night's meeting that an independent legal opinion be secured. He criticized the action of the 1911 Council in not placing before the ratepayers full information as to cost, etc., but the opinion of the then mayor, posing as an engineer from Southern California, had been at that Council's disposal and doubtless that "helped some." The Mayor and Council of 1911 knew the scheme would cost more than $1,500,000, and a city official had been instructed to put those false particulars before the people.

Alderman McCandless deprecated needless talk. The whole question of whether the work would be proceeded with rested with the ratepayers, before whom the by-law for the additional money must be put. He believed they would certainly insist upon the work being prosecuted.

Alderman Dilworth doubted if the quality of the water would be sufficient if taken from the south end of the lake, which, he asserted, is little better than a swamp. He declared that if the work now being done was being done for himself he would fire the engineers off the job "as quick as scat."

Declares Facts Ample

Alderman Gleason, defending the action of previous Councils, declared ample facts had been before the people in the shape of voluminous reports dealing with every phase of the question. The people had before them the bids of the various contractors, before they voted on the by-law. It was all very well now to say that the engineer should have advised the people to throw out the Westholme Lumber Company's contract and ask them to let the contract to an allen firm at a much higher figure. He believed every step possible had been taken to safeguard the city. As for the tunnel proposition, Alderman Gleason asserted it would have cost $1,800,000 to construct the tunnel and develop 3,000 horsepower of electricity, but the proceeds on that quantity would not pay interest on the amount expended on construction. The present route is the cheapest, and the quality of the water is such that hardly a city of America but would be delighted with having at its door such a magnificent supply, free from contamination. Personally, he had no fear of what the ratepayers will do when the by-law is put.

The Mayor opened his remarks with an attack upon Alderman Cuthbert, whose remarks, he asserted, if only because they opposed the project, would only be another argument in favor of continuing the work. His Worship spent several minutes lecturing the Council on what he declared were insults to the engineer and city solicitor, and he eulogized both gentlemen in flowery language.

Alderman Cuthbert objected to His Worship's remarks, and rose to a point of order, steadfastly refusing to be seated until the acting chairman, Alderman Gleason, gave a ruling. The latter threatened to call the police, and even to chastise the objecting alderman, and Alderman Cuthbert instanced the chairman's attitude as just another instance of "Robinson Crusoe and Man Friday."

The Mayor took up in detail the various assertions made derogatory to Sooke and declared they have all been proved incorrect time and time again. The sole cause of delay in prosecuting the work had been the efforts of those who seek to unload Goldstream upon the city. From the beginning of the year he had heard arguments made by members of the board elected by the people to carry out their mandates, such arguments being so adverse to Sooke Lake that he believed such members are violating their oaths of office. He asserted neither of the papers are supporting Sooke Lake but are "barking around the corner in support of Goldstream." To buy Goldstream at the present high values of real estate would cost half as much again as to bring in 100,000,000 gallons from Sooke. But there need be no cause for worry. The ratepayers would not loose sight of what will benefit them most, and he meant to make it his business to have the by-law passed.

Sooke Lake Quality

Mr. Meredith, to questions, stated that the water at the north end of Sooke Lake is of a poorer quality than that at the south end at present, but with the dam erected and the water "turning over" twice a year as temperatures change the quality will prove acceptable. But that was a question with which he had nothing to do. As for Humpback reservoir, Mr. Meredith stated that would be easy to clean. The peat bed there was about twenty-two feet deep in places, but with the layer of gravel to be placed thereover any deterent qualities in the peat would not affect the water in the reservoir. The plans for clearing the lake shores and bottom at the intake would result in a much clearner bed than at present exists at Goldstream.

Alderman McNeill asked the Mayor if the latter had not stated that sooner or later the city would acquire the holdings of the Esquimalt Water Works Company.

Mayor Morley admitted he had made that statement, but what he had meant was that it would not be until after Sooke Lake was developed, when Goldstream would be made of little value.

Alderman McNeil's resolution to secure further opinion from the solicitor was carried, Aldermen McNeil, Humber, Cuthbert, Dilworth, Fullerton and Porter voting for it, and the Mayor and Aldermen Gleason, Meston and McCandless against. Alderman Gleason's resolution relative to accepting the water commissioner's recommendation to borrow $1,500,000 and have the necessary by-law prepared at once was defeated on a tie vote, Aldermen McNeil, Cuthbert, Humber, Fullerton and Dilworth voting against it, while the Mayor and Aldermen Porter, Meston, Gleason and McCandless were for it. As the vote was a tie one, it was, according to Council rules, a negative one.

Alderman Cuthbert moved that the proper officials make an analysis of Sooke water and a report on conditions at Humpback reservoir in relation to the water supply. The resolution was not pressed.

During the proceedings a stenographer took a verbatim report of the remarks on behalf of the Westholme Lumber Company.

A communication from Mr. A. E. Todd was read and tabled. He suggested that, in view of the great extra cost of completing the work, the Council might save money by reducing the size of the flow line from Sooke Lake to Humpback Reservoir and take a supply from that source only during the Winter months, allowing Elk Lake to fill, and in the Summer the city's needs could be met from the latter source and Sooke and Goldstream.

RETURNS FROM FAR NORTH

Party Back After Making Trip From Edmonton to the Mackenzie River

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25.—Messrs. J. K. Cornwall, M.P.P., of Edmonton, Emerson Hough, of Chicago, the magazine writer; B. K. Miller of Milwaukee, formerly globe trotter, and C. H. Caperti, moving-picture operator, arrived on the Princess Sophia this afternoon, having completed a journey of 500 miles from Edmonton via the Mackenzie River.

The travelers left Edmonton on May 20 and traveled by trail to Athabasca Landing, and from there they proceeded to Fort McMurray in scows. The scows carried them 225 miles, which included the passage of Grand Rapids. In this portion of the trip there were eighty miles of rapids to be traversed. The Hudson's Bay steamer Grahama carried the travelers from Fort McMurray to Smith Landing. Here the Slave River was reached. After a portage of sixteen miles they traveled for some distance in a river boat. Four portages were made on the way, one of them meaning the carrying of the boat and supplies over a mountain of considerable size. They then proceeded to the Slave Lake and thence into the Mackensie River. From there they worked their way to within ninety miles of the Arctic and back over the Rockies to Dawson.

Mr. Cornwall reported that vegetables and corn could be grown as far north as the 60th parallel.

Hon. Messrs. Cochrane and Hearst Pay Visit to North Bay—French River Improvements

NORTH BAY, Ont., Aug. 25.—North Bay was visited today by Hon. Frank Cochrane, Dominion Minister of Railways, and Hon. Mr. Hearst, Provincial Minister of Lands and Mines, who began a trip of inspection over the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway and the Grand Trunk Pacific to Winnipeg.

The party was entertained by the Board of Trade and Town Council. Hon. Mr. Cochrane announced his expectation that the G. T. P. would be in full operation to North Bay by this time next year. French River improvements, which will make North Bay a port of the Great Lakes navigation, will be carried out and tenders for the work will be called for as soon as the engineers had plans ready.

Hon. Mr. Hearst outlined the plan of the Ontario Government to place prison farms at various centres as the result of the great success of Fort William industrial farm.

Makes Report on Militia Forces

GENERAL SIR IAN HAMILTON

TELLS OF NEEDS OF MILITIA FORCE

Exhaustive Report Submitted by General Hamilton—Pays High Tribute to Artillery—Praises Western Cavalry.

The report of General Sir Ian Hamilton upon the Canadian militia, in the light of his recent inspection of that body from coast to coast, has been made public by Colonel the Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, to whom it was addressed.

The following is a detailed summary of General Hamilton's chief recommendations:

1—Increase in the instructional staff of the local militia.

2—Localization of instruction in divisional areas by means of provisional schools.

3—Dependent on 2, abolition of central schools for infantry and cavalry.

4—Increase in the remuneration of officer instructors.

5—Direct engagement from outside sources some of the sergeant instructors.

6—Increase in the peace establishment of the active militia.

7—Institution of a minimum strength for units of the active militia.

8—Amalgamation of weak units.

9—Sixteen days' paid training for rural corps as well as for city corps.

10—Training of rural corps at other times than during camping period.

11—Consideration of alternative policies affecting the permanent force. (a) Wider dispersion of permanent force units as the active militia increase; or (b) Concentration of permanent force units and their employments as units.

12—Assimilation of permanent force units if concentrated to the regular model.

13—Interchange of permanent force and regular units.

14—Creation of adequate war reserves of arms, ammunition, clothing, equipment and stores.

15—Scientific treatment of horse registration in peace.

16—Institution of a national reserve.

17—Preparation of classified muster rolls of men, liable to fit for service.

18—Organization on paper of a reserve militia.

General Hamilton's Letter

General Hamilton's letter to the Minister, dated from on board the Empress of Ireland, July 30, is as follows:

"Sir,—I have the honor to enclose my report upon the inspection I have carried out at the request of the Dominion Government. In doing so I am quite at a loss as to how to find expressions for my sense of obligation for kindnesses innumerable received. You, sir, have devoted weeks of your time, as well as troubles simply endless, to the task of making my visit a success. Exclusive of ground covered in motor cars and on horseback, we have traveled together some 13,967 miles, and have inspected 112 units of cavalry, infantry and artillery. If I fail now to help you, the fault can only be my own, especially as you have left me an entirely free hand and have never by word, act or hint of any kind endeavored to influence this purely personal document.

"As to the Canadian forces with whom it has been my happy privilege to come in contact, I can only thank them with all my heart for the welcome they have everywhere extended to me and to my staff, and for the spirit in which any suggestions of mine have invariably been received. A separate report will be in due course submitted, dealing with the defences and fortresses of Canada.

"No proposals have been put forward regarding the organization and distribution of duties at militia headquarters at Ottawa. The omission is intentional. I am anxious to complete my tour of the self-governing Dominions of the Empire before I attempt to discuss a subject so important and contentious as headquarters organization. Within twelve months I hope to be able to submit a memorandum dealing with this matter to all the nations of the Empire which have done me the honor to ask me to inspect their military forces."

Some Deficiencies

In connection with the recommendation for adequate reserves, Sir Ian Hamilton stats that the most serious deficiences are as follows:

283 guns and howitzers for field army; 64 are under order; ammunition for the same; 287 machine guns; 50 are under order; 97,000 rifles; 13,000 are on order; 140,000,000 rounds of small arms ammunition; 150,000 suits of service dress; 100,000 sets of web equipment; 150,000 entrenching instruments; a large amount of harness and saddlery.

With regard to deficiencies in peace establishment, he states that the most serious are as follows:

48 batteries of artillery; 34 ammunition columns; 2 field troops and companies of engineers; 2 infantry battalions, one in fifth and one in sixth division; 11 telegraph and wireless detachments; 15 companies army service corps, and 7 field ambulances.

The foregoing deficiencies exist in regard to the scheme which has been pursued for some time of having the Canadian army, if mobilised for war, organised in a field army comprising seven mounted brigades and lines of communication units; together with garrison troops for Halifax, Quebec and Esquimalt.

The requirements of such a war organization are 5,500 officers and 142,000 other ranks for the field army, and 400 officers, and 15,000 other ranks for the other troops. Thus, the total plan is for 5,900 officers and 158,000 other ranks. In 1912, 2,800 officers and 43,000 other ranks received training, so if mobilization of the Canadian army had been ordered last year, it would have been necessary to find at short notice some 2,100 officers and 110,000 other ranks from outside sources outside the militia forces of the country in order to complete the field army and garrison troops to the war establishment duly sanctioned by Parliament.

General Hamilton further points out that in addition, provision must be made to replace losses in the field, and this replacement should be calculated at the rate of 50 per cent of the field army per annum. Thus: 2,800 officers and over 70,000 other ranks should be added to the deficit already shown, bringing the total to be met on mobilization from outside sources to 4,900 officers and 180,000 other ranks.

Training for Youths

After an interesting discussion of Canada's part in Imperial and local defence, Sir Ian Hamilton discusses the military resources of Canada in an order the reverse of that usually followed, beginning with the reserve militia, passing on to the active militia, and concluding with a discussion of the permanent force. He draws attention to the existing law whereby all male citizens between 18 and 60, numbering a million, are supposed to be available by enrollment and ballot for the defence of the country, and points out that at present, owing to lack of organization, this provision is virtually useless.

"As it is," he says, "there is no heart in the Act; it rings hollow; and so it comes that, in my humble opinion, Canada today is certainly not making provision up to the limit of her resources for her own defence. To remedy this no change in the existing laws is necessary. All that need be done is to revive the old French and British custom—a custom as old as Canada herself—that of preparing in peace muster rolls of the men actually liable. The next step would be to instruct the military authorities to base their schemes of war organization for home defence upon these muster rolls."

General Hamilton carefully explains that this does not necessarily entail universal manhood training in peace. He does, however, urge that boy training is necessary. He expresses the hope that the present voluntary movement for training boys may prove sufficient, but adds that "if the movement should, from any cause, hang fire, then I should like to see Canada emulate Australia. New Zealand and South Africa in frankly adopting compulsory training for all youths up to the age of 18. In Natal, where such a system has existed for some twenty years past, the results, whether judged from a moral, a physical, or military standpoint, are perfectly splendid, as I was able to convince myself after a searching inspection made on the spot some eighteen months ago."

Home Defence

After an interesting review of conditions in the active militia and permanent forces, General Hamilton discusses the question whether the Canadian militia system gives security against an attack. "The task of home defence that falls on the active military forces, as I conceive it," he says, "would be:

"(a) To protect the vitals of Canada (the chief towns, the arsenals and military stores, the ports on the coast and the main railway system) against raids great or small;

"(b) To delay the enemy's main attack until the reserve militia can be assembled and be knocked into some kind of military shape."

After some remarks on the need for preparing in peace, Sir Ian Hamilton says that since 1910, when Sir John French inspected the force, great progress has been made in many directions, so that another four or five years should put Canada quite at her ease as to raids, great or small.

With regard to the secondary duty of holding off the enemy's main attack until the reserve militia takes shape, depends upon two considerations, how long it would take an enemy after a declaration of war to bring a serious attack to bear and how long it would take the reserve militia to be mobilized.

His object, he says, is to enable Canadians to solve these problems themselves, and he concludes:

"But even to mention them is to emphasize the fact that the active militia in itself provides a framework altogether insignificant for Canada's needs if her existence is seriously threatened from without and that she must, to meet such a contingency, put her trust in the development and organization of her reserve militia."

Many of General Hamilton's criticisms of the troops that he inspected are of great interest. On the Western cavalry he made the following remarks:

"The Western cavalry are fine. The physique of the men is just right. They are as keen as mustard, and their horses, the broncbos of the prairies, show blood and stamina. To make these corps into an extremely formidable force of mounted riflemen, it is necessary first, and by some means or other, several days' preliminary troop drill should be carried out, and that musketry practice should be pushed beyond its present elementary point. The horses are, at best, half broken, and so also are the riders. Thus in the excitement of field operations the men get out of hand and fail in the field to look, as they should do, to their troop leaders.

"Higher education, the power to make any sort of report, to draw a simple sketch, is undeveloped. Still, take the regiments as they stand, they answer their purpose. I mean, they give reasonable assurance that any invader, white, Eskimo, or whoever he may be, attempting to penetrate between Arthur and the Rockies, will [illegible] has with him a numerous and trained cavalry, find [illegible] up, harassed, and hungry [illegible] traversed many miles."

UNSATISFACTORY OUTLOOK

The situation at Nanaimo and Ladysmith is one calculated to give rise to no inconsiderable amount of anxiety, not because of any prospective trouble on the part of the miners, but because of the probability that there will be little or no work for any of them to do, no matter how much disposed they may be to do it. The outcome of the strike seems likely to be the cessation of very much of the work that has been carried on in the mines. We do not know how such things are regarded by miners' unions, but we assume a strike ceases to be a strike when there ceases to be any work to which the strikers can return. Whether or not strike pay will be continued under such conditions, we are not in a position to say. Even if it is, the amount is not sufficient to keep miners and their families in the comfort to which they have been accustomed. What these people seem likely to have to face is a cessation of employment without any immediate prospect of its renewal.

Without expressing any opinion as to what ought to be done under these circumstances, we feel it to be a public duty to direct attention to the aspect which the situation seems likely to assume. Possibly the matter has already gone too far to be remedied, but it is impossible to regard without grave concern the prospect that hundreds of miners and their families may find themselves out of work and with no means of subsistence at the very beginning of the Winter season.

WATER RIGHTS BRANCH

The report of the water rights branch of the Department of Lands for 1912 is published. It is replete with information, illustrated with photo-engravings and maps of the various areas that have formed the subject of examination. Whatever doubt anyone may have entertained of the value of the work of this branch will be dispelled by perusal of this report. As the years pass, a mass of useful information will be collated by it that will serve as an invaluable guide to those contemplating using the rivers and streams of the Province either for irrigation or industrial purposes. The statistics as to elevation, temperature, precipitation, character of soil, the best means of utilising the water cannot be otherwise than of very great service to all persons engaged in such development as calls for the use of a water supply.

The vast potential value of the water supply of this Province is indicated by this report, although the whole ground is by no means covered in it. We suggest to the comptroller of the branch that in future reports he might with advantage publish a resume of the results of the year's work, setting out in a general way the nature of the new information gathered, leaving readers to look up the details in the reports of his subordinates. In other words, we propose that he shall co-ordinate the several reports into the form of a connected narrative. We are led to make this suggestion by his own statement in submitting the report to the Minister as follows: "Allowance must be made for the fact that this branch is still in process of reorganization, and therefore this report does not assume the unified form which might otherwise be possible."

THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSION

We have at hand the report of the Royal Commission of Municipal Government. This body consisted of Messrs. W. H. Keary, H. A. Maclean and A. E. Buil. The evidence taken by the Commission fills 1,200 type-written pages, but the Commissioners have compressed into seven printed pages all their recommendations. They report that there is general satisfaction with the present system, and oppose the suggestion that there shall be any radical changes in the law as it stands. They feel able to say that as a rule the various municipal governments have been well and honestly carried on, and that no trace of corruption has been disclosed.

The report is adverse to what is called the Commission form of municipal government. This conclusion was reached after very careful investigation of this system where it has been adopted. "We observed," say the Commissioners, "that public discussion of civic affairs practically ceased where commission government prevailed. The Commissioners go through the form of holding public meetings, but it is an empty form, as there is no discussion in the proper sense of the term, everything being arranged beforehand in private meetings. It is obvious that if the affairs of a city fall into the hands of two or three bad men under the Commission form, they might do the city irreparable injury, as they are usually elected for a term of from two to four years." The Commissioners think the "awkward and unworkable" plan of "the recall" rather an injury than an advantage, for they do not believe competent men would take office with the prospect of having to run two or three elections every term. They mention that at the first election held in Spokane there were ninety-two candidates for the positions on the Board, and they believe if this system were adopted in British Columbia it would mean that we would have to adopt the "cumbersome political machinery in force in the United States." This reference is to the primaries system, whereby candidates are weeded out.

In cities where the volume of public business is so great as to occupy the time of aldermen to the exclusion of their private business, the Commissioners recommend that provision shall be made for the appointment of boards of control. We quote the recommendation on this point:

We would recommend that municipalities having a population of 15,000 or over shall have power to pass a by-law (which must be submitted to the electors in the same way as any referendum) providing:

(a) That the Council shall consist of the Mayor or Reeve, the usual number of aldermen or councillors, and from two to four controllers;

(b) That the Mayor or Reeve shall be elected annually, and that the aldermen or councillors and controllers shall be elected for a term of two years, half retiring each year;

(c) That the controllers shall give all their time to the business of the municipality, and shall receive remuneration for their services;

(d) That the Board of Control (which shall consist of the Mayor or Reeve and the controllers) shall have the power to employ or dismiss all employees of the municipality, including heads of departments;

(e) That the Board of Control shall have full authority over all the executive work of the municipality, subject to the right of the Council to reject, vary, or refer back its actions by a two-thirds vote.

They do not favor the classification of municipalities after the plan in vogue in the United States, but take the position that there should be certain general laws applicable to all municipalities, the cases of the larger cities to be met, when necessary, by special charters. The following excerpts from the report will be read with interest:

Several complaints were addressed to us regarding the arbitrary and unreasonable exercise by public service corporations of powers of entry upon public streets, in the erection of poles, the laying of rails, pipes, etc., conferred by the private acts of incorporation of these companies. Several of these acts are quite old and contain few and inadequate provisions for safeguarding public rights, as they were passed at a time when private bill legislation was not as carefully considered from the point of view of the public as at present. It seems to us that the situation could be properly dealt with by a public act authorizing the establishment of a commission with ample powers to enforce reasonable action in such cases, notwithstanding the powers conferred on these corporations by the private acts already referred to. Such a tribunal might be either permanent or appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor from time to time to deal with such cases as they arise. Power might also be given to such a commission to compel such companies to give adequate service at reasonable rates. Such tribunals exist in Ontario and Manitoba, and are found to be of great benefit.

The Union of British Columbia Municipalities has strongly urged that all municipalities should be given power to purchase, own, construct, maintain, and operate telephone systems, and also systems of public transportation by means of motor-buses, or railless electric cars, within their respective corporate limits. We recommend that these powers should be given to the different municipalities of the Province.

Several municipalities especially asked that they be given power to establish a municipal telephone service. Some years ago the farmers on Lulu Island combined to establish a private telephone system for their own benefit, as the municipality had not the right to do so. Our attention has also been called to one municipality that has already this power under its act of incorporation, and we do not see any good reason against giving the same power to all municipalities. Municipalities have already the right to operate tramways, and these are certainly more complicated and more difficult to establish and operate than telephone systems.

The Commissioners very strongly recommend the establishment of a Municipal Department under the Provincial Government, which shall keep a strict supervision of the several municipal governments, and among other things supervise the money by-laws, so as to prevent their validity being challenged. They suggest that the power vested in municipalities to invest their sinking funds in mortgages should be abolished; that aldermen and councillors should be elected for two-year terms, one-half the Board retiring each year; that the present system of Police and License Boards shall be maintained, that the exemption of churches and church property from taxation shall be discontinued; that provision shall be made for the remuneration of all heads of municipalities; that negotiations shall be begun with the governments of the other Provinces to have British Columbia municipal debentures made available for the investment of trust funds. There are suggestions as to the best way of enabling the holders of agreements of sale to exercise the municipal franchise, and for consultations between the School Boards and the Councils when the former propose to exceed a fixed limit, which they suggest should be seven mills on the dollar. Of the forty-three witnesses who expressed opinions on the ward system, twenty-six favored it.

It may be thought that the report contains not very much that is new, and this is undoubtedly the case; but it must be remembered that one of the objects of the Commission was to report upon the working of our present system, and this they found to be, in the main, satisfactory. It will probably have the effect of putting an end to the insistent demand from a small circle for Commission Government, and lead to the inauguration in some cases of Boards of Control.

THE MILITIA

It is about time that a public protest was made against the attacks that are being directed against the militia in connection with their presence in the strike area. Let us mention a few undisputed facts. There was grave disorder at Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Extension. The Provincial Government sent special constables to restore order. These men were seized, their badges of office and their arms were taken from them. Property to a very considerable value was destoyed. Men, women and children were forced to flee to the woods for safety. The militia were sent to restore order; they did so. Hence they have been and are assailed by men who declare themselves in sympathy with those persons who prevented the police from preventing disorder.

Let us suppose that a different condition of affairs had existed. Let us suppose that in some community the non-union wage-earners, who outnumber the union wage-earners 8 to 1 in Canada, should declare a strike against union men, do violence to them, destroy their property, drive them, their wives and children into the woods, and suppose the police should endeavor to protect these union men, their families and property, but should be driven away; and suppose the militia should be sent to restore order, would the union men revile the troops?

The militia have established peace in the strike district; they have shared their rations with hungry women and children and have found shelter for them. Are these acts for which men should be reviled? We know the very great majority of the people in the community think that, so far from being reviled, the militia deserve hearty thanks. We believe that a majority of the union workmen in Canada and even in this community are glad to think that the militia were on the ground to prevent further violence and assist those in need. We believe that a majority of the miners themselves are thankful that an end was put to violence before irreparable harm was done.

As for the members of the militia corps, we wish to speak in the highest possible terms of the manner in which they have responded to the call of duty and set an example in moderation, kindness and good temper to all their fellow-citizens.

VISITING GEOLOGISTS

Victoria is honored today by the presence of a distinguished body of visitors, representative in an eminent way of the geological activities of many nations. When international congresses are held, it is customary to give the delegates attending them an opportunity of seeing the country they are guests in and doing all possible to make them feel at home during their short but important visit. It is not an easy matter in a brief time to give our visitors anything much in the nature of an insight into the characteristics and natural resources of this Dominion, because here distances are so great and the possibilities so many that the delegates in our midst have not the time for special study. Indeed, what they have seen during their tour through Canada must have been of a cursory character, and the knowledge they will take away with them will be more academic than economic. But if definite world-wide attention is directed to the geological possibilities of this Dominion through the presence here of men eminent in this branch of human activities, a great deal will have been accomplished. In British Columbia and the Yukon there are immense undiscovered fields yet to be explored. In both these territories the resources of mother earth have hardly been scratched, and our geological knowledge of the land we live in is still in its infancy. If enough is shown our visitors to interest them in the possibilities here, it may be that some, if not all, of them will come again with more time on their hands and a desire to make a special study of conditions as they exist here.

There is one development that we hope will follow the meeting of the geological congress in this country and the visit of the delegates to the Pacific Coast. We have before pointed out the desirability of the continuation of the geological survey on Vancouver Island, and in this respect we might extend our suggestion that more systematic work of this character should be pursued all over the Province. It is a matter that requires very many years before satisfactory conclusions can be reached, but the results warrant the time and the expenditure. There is no reason why this Province should not become one of the most important centres of geological work in the world, for, if our latent possibilities are anything like what we believe them to be, their investigation will result in findings of great value. We commend this idea to Mr. Louis Coderre, the Minister of Mines, who accompanies the distinguished scientists who are gathered here.

It is a pleasing duty to welcome such a body of men as are with us today. They stand at the head of their profession in the different countries from which they come. The reputation of many of them is international. They have already seen a considerable amount of our mining operations in the Kootenay and Boundary countries, and from here they will go to the Prince Rupert district and the Yukon to make still further observations. It is a privilege to have such eminent men with us, though we are certain that their trip to the Canadian West will be amply repaid by what they have already seen and what yet remains on their programme.

We wish to repeat the warning given by the evening paper to bicyclists who take hold of moving street cars and motor cars. It is a terribly dangerous practice and ought to be severely punished.

The United States Department of Commerce estimates that no less than $500,000,000 of United States capital is now invested in Canada, nearly 50 per cent of which has come in during the past three years.

"Canada" is wrong in saying the Canadians entered Confederation partly in the hope of securing a transcontinental railway. It has confused two very different things. The Maritime Provinces gave their assent to union with the two Canadas largely because they hoped thereby to secure the Intercolonial Railway.

Quebec, with the addition of Ungava, is now the largest Province in Canada with 706,000 square miles. Ontario, which recently absorbed the district of Patricia, comes second with 407,000 square miles. British Columbia is third with 357,000 square miles, but we still can flatter ourselves that we have the greatest resources of any Province in the Dominion.

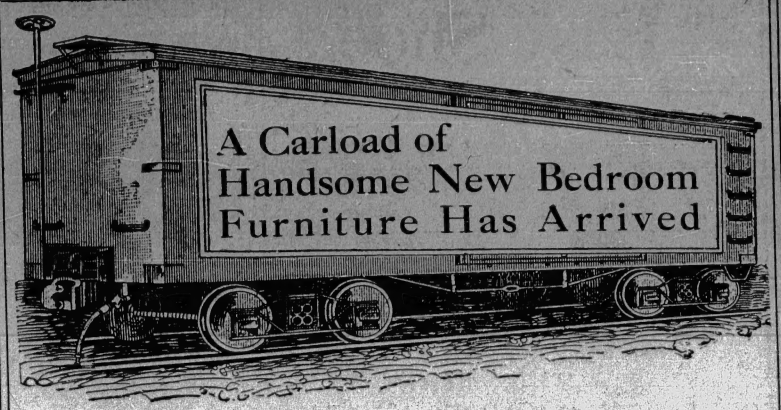

Replying to a correspondent: The number of wage-earners in Canada is upwards of 1,200,000, of whom 160,120 belong to trades unions. It is stated that Canada stands lowest in the percentage of its trades union membership among all countries where this system is in vogue. In Australia there are 66 union members to every 1,000 of the population, and in Canada only 18 to the 1,000. The number of union men in Canada increased, however, about 20 per cent last year.

We do not recall a previous Summer when there have been so many drowning accidents traceable to inability to swim. Happily Victoria has been fortunate in this respect, but the lesson should not be lost. Public swimming baths should be provided here, and the necessity of learning the natatorial art should be impressed upon those responsible for the governance of our schools. In a city such as Victoria, situated on the sea coast, we should like to see swimming made compulsory in all our schools.

That there is nothing new under the sun has been known since King Solomon's time at least, and so no one will be surprised to learn that "Take it from me," now supposed to be up to date, is as old as Charles Dickens; that the expression, "The time, the place and the girl," originated with Brownin; only, he wrote "loved one" instead of "girl," and that "fired out" was well understood in its modern sense by the people of Shakespeare's day. Some day it will be discovered that Hengist and Horsa used to talk to each other in baseball dialect.

It is inevitable that another general election will be held in Australia without much loss of time. It is well-nigh impossible for any Government to carry on with a majority of one, unless, indeed, a coalition ministry is formed, and this has not been done in the Commonwealth. The next contest may witness the return of Sir George Reid to politics, and it is said to be possible that he will assume the leadership of the Liberal party. He is a popular figure in Australia, and his presence would be of considerable strength to the party now in power.

There are 3,424 languages and dialects in use in the entire world.

HON. LOUIS CODERRE ON POLITICAL ISSUES

Declares Government to Be in Very Healthy Condition—Redistribution First Measure of Session.

Hon. Louis Coderre, Minister of Mines, arrived in the city yesterday with the party of geologists from the International Congress. This is the first time the Minister has been on the Pacific, and naturally he was greatly impressed with what he has seen. He is accompanied by Mrs. Coderre and his daughter.

After spending the day as per the schedule drawn up by the reception committee, the Minister was entertained by friends from the East in the evening. In the course of an interview he touched upon several topics of current political interest.

"I suppose," he commenced, "you want me to tell you about the health of the Conservative Government at Ottawa. From newspaper reports in certain places I might be inclined to believe that it was in a critical condition, and that, in fact, as a relative, I ought now to be at its bedside, but for the simple fact that I know better. All rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, the Conservative Government at Ottawa is in an excellent condition, and retains in unstinted measure the confidence of the electorate which returned it to power.

"No, the Naval Bill did not kill the Government, nor is it likely to," he proceeded. "What the Premier proposes doing in regard to that matter I do not at the moment know, but I am satisfied that it will be effective. Naturally I am sorry that the bill itself did not become effective, and I have a suspicion that the men who were instrumental in defeating it are of the same opinion today. However, that is past, and the business of the Government is before it. I will not attempt to outline what the policy of the Government will be in this regard, although, of course, I have my own ideas. All kinds of foolish things have been said about it, while the Government itself has not yet discussed the matter at all. When Parliament resumes it may be taken up, but at all events there will be no dissolution on account of it. That is certain. The Government would be remiss in its duty to the people if it threw over the reins of Government before dealing with the matter of redistribution. Once that is disposed of the question of the permanent naval policy will come up. At least that is how I figure it out. Redistribution is a question of tremendous importance, particularly for the West. On the basis of population as supplied by the Province of Quebec the members for the Province of British Columbia ought to be about double the present number. I don't know exactly what your population is, but I would make that as a rough guess. So you see what redistribution means to the West.

Mining Problems

"Talking of the West specially reminds me of another matter that is of importance here. I have just come through the Interior of the Province, where, along with the members of the geological party, I had an excellent opportunity of studying the mining operations. We visited the coal mines at Bull River, Maple Creek, Hillcrest, Corbin, Coleman and Coal Creek, and also Fernie. We found signs of wonderful promise in all of those mines, particularly at Corbin, where some wonderful development work has been undertaken. We also visited Nelson and inquired into the lead and zinc problems. You may know that they want the Federal Government to appoint a commission to look into this question. Personally I cannot say at the moment what will be done, although, of course, the application for the commission has been filed. It is claimed that if the electrical process could be installed it would be possible for the zinc mines to pay handsomely, and in addition to that, it is suggested that a duty should be imposed upon the manufactured article coming in from the United States. That, however, is a matter for the tariff commission, and I presume that the whole question will have to be gone into before anything can be done. The Federal Government has granted a bounty for the production of lead, and I believe that it is proving satisfactory. Further experiments are necessary, however, in regard to the production of zinc, and there is a claim that more money should be supplied by the Government for this purpose. A mining commission, if appointed, would consider all of these matters and report upon them, and it is feasible that the Government will take that view of the case and appoint such a commissioner during the coming session."

Changing the subject, the minister began to attack the principal of long sessions. "Take the case of the business man," he said, "who not only devotes the major part of his time to the interests of his constituents, but also comes a very long way to do it. I don't think it is right that Parliament should waste any time at all in useless discussion. Frank and free discussion is all right, but there ought to be a limit. In fact, I have gone into the matter somewhat closely, and I have come to the conclusion that the entire session should not be more than four months of the year."

Hon. Mr. Coderre does not intend taking a trip to Dawson, as was previously stated, but will return direct to Ottawa. Speaking of the city of Victoria, he said that in driving around it yesterday, if he had not known otherwise, he would have thought that it had a population of nearer two hundred thousand than anything else. "It is so spread out," he said, "that it gives one the impression of great size. And your streets and business blocks are so magnificent that anyone might imagine them belonging to a city several times larger. I must confess that the beauty of your city was a wonder to me. In fact, I think I can safely say that I have wandered all the way across the country. I have always had an idea that the world did not end at the western boundary of Ontario, but at the same time I really did not imagine that Canada, that is Western Canada, was such a magnificently endowed country as she has proved herself to be. I have enjoyed my trip immensely, and I am sure that I will profit by it."

COMEDY FURNISHES TREAT

Lawrence Stock Company Ably Presents "All of a Sudden Peggy"—Audience Well Pleased

The Lawrence Stock Company received a warm welcome from the big audience gathered in the Victoria Theatre last night.

A happier selection could hardly have been made for their opening bill than that delicious English comedy, "All of a Sudden Peggy." It is comedy of the highest class, witty and original as to lines and cleverly ingenious in plot. It requires quickness and precision in the acting, and in that respect the company achieved a marked measure of success, with the result that there was not a dull moment from start to finish. The performance went with spirit and verve the whole time, and the audience was kept bubbling over with merriment.

Maude Leone could have had no better role for stepping into sudden popularity in Victoria than that of the charming Peggy O'Mara, and her usual beauty, her charming manner and the delightful insouciance with which she invested the character brought her enthusiastic curtain calls after every act. As the irresistible Irish minx who manages everything and everybody, she was a sheer delight and richly deserved the tributes given her.

Del Lawrence justified his deservedly high reputation by his fine work as the Hon. Jimmy Keppel, making his points with the ease and surety of the finished artist. Alf. Layne was excellent as Major Archie Phipps, avoiding any tendency toward burlesque, and Edward Lawrence as the eccentric peer with a weakness for spiders, did a capital piece of character acting. Howard Russell had comparatively little to do but did that little so well as to make the character of Jack Menzies stand out as one of the particular features. Maude Plunkett depicts the aristocratic Lady Crackenthorpe as a woman with absolutely no sense of humor, and does it with convincing sincerity. Daisy D'Avra was excellent as the Irish widow, Mrs. O'Mara, and Margaret Marriott was adequate as Jimmie's sister. A very clever bit was contributed by Minnie Townshend, and other minor roles were in able hands.

"All of a Sudden Peggy" is a delightful play, delightfully performed and should not be missed by play-goers.

DEFENCE CONFERENCE

Negotiations Reported to Be in Progress Regarding Time and Place of Meeting

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 25.—It is now probable that the negotiations for the Imperial Defence conference, to consider particularly the naval problems of the Pacific, which the Federal Government commenced last year, will mature at an early date, says The Daily Telegraph's correspondent here. It is understood here that the Imperial authorities have accepted the general principle and the time and place are now the subject negotiations between the Imperial and the Dominion Governments. It has not been decided whether Vancouver or London shall be chosen.

A dispatch sent to The London Daily Mail on the subject shows the federal ministry while recognising the necessity of having the best possible expert advice on the subject, rejects the suggestion of a Vancouver conference. It is proposed that the conference should consist of the Prime Minister and defence ministers of all Overseas Dominions.

MILITANTS TAKE HOLIDAY

It Is Believed Mrs. Pankhurst Agreed to Truce to Strengthen Hands of Supporters of Suffrage

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Rumors which have been current of a truce between the militant suffragettes and the Government seem to find support in a letter written today by Mrs. Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, to her followers, advising them to take a holiday for the present. She says:

"I am gathering up strength for a renewal of the battle when the holiday season is over. I hope that every one of you will also take advantage of the present lull in political activity to take the rest and change you have all so richly deserved."

Another indication that an agreement has been reached is the cessation by the authorities of the provisions of the "Cat and Mouse Act." Out of forty-three suffragettes sentenced to imprisonment for various offences, only one is now in jail. Most of the others are following their ordinary avocations, and no attempt is made to re-arrest them.

It is believed that Mrs. Pankhurst has at last agreed to a truce, in order to strengthen the hands of those members of the British Parliament who are working toward the enfranchisement of women in a Government measure.

Must Pay Penalty—The Federal Government has decided that there will be no interference in the capital case of Henry Wagner, of Nanaimo. He will be executed on Thursday.

Left for Vernon—The livestock commissioner of the Province, Mr. W. T. MacDonald, left yesterday to attend the sale of cattle which have been imported by the Government at Vernon on Aug. 29.

Takes Position Here—Miss Kate Scanlan, for a number of years a teacher in the public schools at Nelson, and for a year and a half acting principal, has come to Victoria, where she has accepted a position as first assistant in the Girls' Central School.

Inspector General Arrives—Major-General W. H. Cotton, inspector-general of the forces, arrived yesterday afternoon from Vancouver. He was received by Colonel A. Roy, the officer commanding the district, and will inspect the forts and the permanent force at the barracks today.

Women and the Fair—Mrs. Hutchinson, president of the Royal Oak Institute and vice-president of the Agricultural Association, with Mr. George E. Sangster and Mrs. Palmer, spent some time yesterday in looking over the Woman's Building and consulting about the women's exhibits at the Fall Fair.

Speeded Motor Cycle—Speeding a motor cycle on Fort Street on August 20, was the charge to which Mr. F. Lehus answered in the police court yesterday. Although he claimed to be traveling well within the limit a fine of $25 was imposed in view of the testimony of the prosecution.

Honors Won at Regina—Mr. W. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, has received a telegram from the exhibition commissioner, Mr. W. P. Brandrith, stating that a gold medal has been awarded to the British Columbia exhibit at the Regina fair for "general excellence."

Picnic at Port Hardy—The Port Hardy Church of England picnic was held across at the Tsulquate River. About fifteen adults and twenty-four children, including the choir and Sunday school, were taken over in boats and Mr. Lyon's launch. Games were played till tea time, after which boat races and foot races came and the day concluded with the distribution of Sunday school prizes by Mr. Stackhouse, the missionary at Port Hardy.

A Resolution—At a mass meeting in the Victoria Theatre on Sunday evening, at which Mr. Christian Siverts presided, the following resolution was passed: "Whereas, the main object of the maintenance of the militia is for the purpose of breaking strikes by intimidating the strikers, and, if necessary, shooting the strikers into submission. Therefore, be it resolved, that this meeting of workers of this city call on all labor unions to expel any man from their organization who is a member, or continues to be a member ,of the militia."

Drum-head Service—By special request of Lieut.-Colonel John Hall, now in command of the militia in the Nanaimo district, a largely attended drum-head service was held in that city on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Canon Silva White, rector of Nanaimo, and Ven. Archdeacon Scriven. The hymns sung during the service were all of a military character. "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Fight the Good Fight," and "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus." The lesson read was from I Peter, chapter 2, verses 2 to 18. Ven. Archdeacon Scriven was the preacher. He gave a short but excellent address which was greatly enjoyed.

Northern Trade—Officials of the Board of Trade have come to the conclusion that a determined effort should be made by the merchants of this city to secure a good share of the trade that is certain to come to the principle ports of the Pacific Northwest as a result of the Shushanna gold strike and the rush that is taking place to that region. For the purpose of considering the matter a meeting of the council of that body will take place either next Thursday or Friday, the date not having yet been definitely settled. Other matters of local import will be brought up for discussion.

Meeting Today—To continue their work in connection with the Made-in-Victoria exhibit at the Fall Fair, which takes place September 23 to 27, a meeting of the members of the manufacturers' committee of the Board of Trade, will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Their are many details in the arrangement of this feature of the annual island exhibition, and, for this reason Mr. W. A. Jamelson, the chairman, hopes that there will be a full attendance. It is expected that Dr. Tolmie, president of the B.C. Agricultural Association, and Mr. George Sangster, the secretary, will be present.

Esquimalt Schools—At a meeting of the Esquimalt School Board last night it was announced that the Board has taken over the old schoolhouse in Esquimalt village, just outside the navy-yard, and this building will be renovated and used for the primary class under the supervision of Miss Ethel Hardie. The Lampson Street School, as has been announced, is being enlarged from a six-roomed to a fourteen-roomed structure, but only the older part will be ready when both this and the primary school open next Tuesday. Two new teachers, Miss Sullivan and Miss Margery Holmes, will join the staff of the Lampson Street School for the coming term.

Valuable Settlers—A farmer's wife of Kalamazoo, Michigan, writes an exceptionally interesting letter this week to the Vancouver Island Development League, asking information about island farms and their prospects. Her husband, who is a Prince Edward Island man, of Scottish parentage, has sixty-one acres well planted with every variety of fruit and vegetables, a well-built home, seven cows and a hard-working family at his back. For instance, they get their produce to market, seven miles distant, by 5 o'clock every morning. "But," the letter continues, "though we sell about $1,000 of product each year, we do not get much ahead. The heat is great, and dries everything up at certain seasons. It is now 103 in the shade and 118 in the sun." A mate of a vessel just about to sail for England is taking back League literature with him, and a Toronto man writes: "I think Victoria the finest city in Canada. It is sweltering hot here."

Withdrew Charge—Attempting to obtain money by false representation was the information on which David Jones was arraigned before Magistrate Jay by the Esquimalt authorities yesterday morning. Mr. J. Charles McIntosh, acting for the municipality, explained that the accused had gone to Mrs. Simpson, of the Coach and Horses Inn, for board and lodging, which he secured. He would not give a name at first, but later gave one which it was believed to be fictitious. He did not pay his account, but, instead, endeavored to borrow $10 from Mrs. Simpson, stating that he would have money coming in to cover his indebtedness. Mr. McIntosh, however, expressed the opinion that Jones had been sufficiently punished and asked that the court allow the withdrawal of the charge. This was granted and the prisoner was dismissed.

Breach Vehicles By-law—For carrying another person on the box of his express waggon, William Kirby, a licensed driver, was fined $15 by Magistrate Jay yesterday morning. The information was laid by Inspector of Vehicles Palmer under section 13 of the by-law in question. It was shown that the defendant persisted in this practice, in spite of persistent warnings and when, a few days ago, he was found driving along Belleville Street with a man named Hansen with him on the seat, the officer decided to take action. The latter, in giving testimony, declared that Messrs. Kirby, Hansen, and others traveled together and made a general nuisance of themselves on the stand. The court, in passing judgement, observed that Kirby and a few others appear to take pleasure in persisting in disregarding the civic regulations. They would have to understand that these were made to be obeyed and would be strictly enforced. The defendant was given to noon today to pay the penalty.

Had Narrow Escape—At Cordova Bay on Sunday afternoon, Mr. W. Todd, a young Victorian, and a companion had a remarkable escape from death or serious injury as a result of an automobile accident. Mr. Todd was driving the car, which is an exceptionally heavy six-cylinder model, and had backed into the side of the road preparatory to turning, when the mishap occurred. It is supposed that the front wheels locked and that he threw on his power too suddenly. At any rate the machine turned completely over, the four wheels spinning in the air. The occupants most fortunately were thrown some feet on either side, Mr. Todd, being so taken by surprise as to let go his hold of the wheel. If he had forcibly retained his position it is practically certain that he would have sustained mortal injuries. As it was, neither young men was any the worse with the exception of a few bruises, and the automobile was not badly damaged, only the wind shield being broken, and the front anxle bent.

Threatened With Gun—Pointing a revolver threateningly at Mr. D. Droyman, of John Street, is alleged against Mr. Alex. Lahattin, who was arraigned in the police court yesterday morning. The local police received word that the accused was creating a disturbance in that locality on Sunday afternoon, and Sergt. Webb hastened to the scene. On arriving he took Lahattin into custody, finding in his possession a very formidable firearm. It is stated that Lahattin levelled the gun at Mr. Droyman on John Street, and that, when grappled with, he fired a couple of shots in the air. City Prosecutor Harrison asked for a remand without going into the circumstances, explaining that his case was not in hand as yet, and that he might have to change the charge to a more serious one after hearing from a couple of witnesses. For the latter reason, when Mr. Frank Higgins, council for the accused, asked for bail Mr. Harrison requested that, should it be granted, it be made substantial. The magistrate fixed the bail at $500 in two sureties of $250 each. The hearing was adjourned to Wednesday.

Has Peevish Disposition—When Mr. Benjamin C. Pettingell was given a hearing on the charge of treating his Shetland pony cruelly, which was laid by Mr. Charles H. Hill, he made it quite clear to the Court that the little animal was possessed of anything but a pleasant disposition. Dr. Hamilton, in giving testimony, stated that, in making an examination of him, the pony had bitten him. Further evidence was to the effect that he has used his teeth on children who were tempted by his innocent appearance to endeavor to pet him, elderly ladies and gentlemen had suffered when attracted in the same way, while two policemen had "mixed" with him and come off second best. Mr. Pettingell denied Mr. Hill's statemen that he had used a club on the animal. He said that the pony had been chastised only with an ordinary riding crop, which was produced. He explained that he had tried to sell the animal, but, as he was honest and told prospective buyers of the creature's habits, he could not find a buyer. In dismissing the case the magistrate laughingly observed that the defendant and the pony had better part company, as it was obvious that they could not work in harness together.

GEOLOGISTS ARE TAKEN WITH WEST

First Party Arrived Yesterday—Interesting View of Possible Effects Upon Canada by Prominent Member.

The geological invasion happened yesterday with the arrival of the party designated "C2," and from the hour of their arrival till late at night the members of it were kept busy sight-seeing and being generally entertained. Tally-hos met the steamer at the wharf in the afternoon, culled them as they stepped from the gangway, and at once proceeded to enlighten them as to the beauty spots of Victoria by taking them round the circular route. It was late in the afternoon before they discovered their rooms at the Empress Hotel, and then immediately after dinner a number of private parties went off to the various clubs, whither they had been freely invited, and thus left the general headquarters considerably depleted.

In all there were over sixty of the original "C2" party in the city, but even at that there was a casualty list which accounted for the absence of some. For instance, Mr. J. McEvoy, the associate leader of the party, was taken ill on the trip West, and when he arrived in Vancouver it was found that he was suffering from pneumonia, and in consequence he had to be left in the Vancouver Hospital. Dr. H. E. Boeke, a noted German geologist, dropped out at Rossland, unable to continue the trip. He will be picked up on the way back. The other party, "C1," which arrived today, also suffered a casualty on the way here, Dr. Coleman, of Toronto University, breaking a small bone in his leg while coming down the mountains at Field. He was also left at Vancouver to undergo an X-ray examination.

Not the least interesting feature of the day's proceedings was the trip which about seven of the geologists took to Nanaimo in the afternoon, with a view to having a look at the geological facings of the country in the strike district. Of course arrangements for this little side-trip were made beforehand, so that the party had no difficulty with preliminaries. On arriving at Nanaimo last night, they were to report to the mine owners, with a view to having an opportunity of studying at first hand the products of the Vancouver Island mines. Among the members of the party the greatest possible interest was evinced in the coal and mineral possibilities of the Island, and many of them expressed their regret that the shortness of their visit made it impossible for them to pay closer attention to this interesting topic.

Benefits Canada

An interesting interview as to the possible effects of the Congress' excursions throughout the Dominion was given The Colonist last night by Mr. J. B. Tyrrell, of Toronto, one of the most distinguished mining engineers of the country. "This is an excursion of geologists," he said, "and not politicians or speculators, and it is not to be expected that the results or effects of this visit will be observed very rapidly, in that it is not likely to be followed by the influx of capital or anything of that sort; but at the same time, I believe that this visit of geologists will be of far more lasting good to the country than any visitation that the Dominion has ever experienced.

"Every man in this party is a student of geology. A great many of them are professors, and those who are not are practitioners in one form or another, so that the subject they are investigating is of paramount interest to all of them. We have no camp followers to divert attention from the main issue. In organizing these parties we excluded everyone not actively interested in the science of geology, either theoretically or practically, and the result is that you have here today a body of men, perhaps the most intelligent body of men that have ever visited the country, making a close and personal study of your geological features, not for purposes of speculation but simply for purposes of education and general self-instruction. From the point of view of the business man I think this excursion is the best advertisement that the Dominion ever had. Just consider the number of professors of geology that are here from all parts of the civilized world, and in conjunction with that thought consider what geology really means to the country as a whole. You all know that the mineral wealth of this section is tremendous, how tremendous you have no real conception of. And naturally it is desirous that it should be known as widely as possible. Can you imagine a better or more disinterested way of making it known than by having it taught in the schools and universities of other lands, where very little may be known about your resources one way or the other? That is what this excursion will do for Canada. The professors who are now with us will return to their homes and to their universities with Canada, in the geological sense, writ large in their memories. The vast mineral resources of British Columbia and other places will be discussed with the pupils in like manner with the established facts of other things, and in consequence Canada and British Columbia will be brought within the purview of all the geological students of the world.

"Today that may appear a somewhat vague thing, but I am convinced that it will not long be vague. This is a very young country, and already it has made tremendous leaps in the way of development, but when the knowledge of its wonderful mineral wealth is scattered all over the world, and instilled into the student mind, as it will of necessity be, I firmly believe that this country will take a step in advance such as it has never yet taken, with all its marvellous advancement."

Impressed With British Columbia

In conversation with a number of the party, The Colonist learned that the greatest surprise has been occasioned them by the wonderful productivity of the British Columbia mines, and several of the foreign delegates have expressed their intention of coming here again at an early date to make a more intimate study of the geological features of the country. Everything they have seen has convinced them that this particular section of Canada is richly endowed from the mineral as well as other standpoints, and from now on British Columbia will have attained a measure of popularity and intimacy which she could not possibly enjoy before.

The party designated "C 1" arrives this morning. The members will breakfast on board, and then adjourn to the Empress Hotel for a siesta. The "C 2" party will start out upon a geological survey at 9 o'clock, motoring to Albert Head, and at the same hour the members of "C 1" will set out upon a tally-ho ride round the city's environs.

A slight change has been made in the programme of the visiting geologists of the "C 1" excursion, who will leave Victoria tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 instead of waiting until the midnight boat, as was at first arranged. Those plannig to entertain the visitors tomorrow should bear this alteration of the schedule in mind.

Much interest is being felt in the informal luncheon which will be tendered the visiting members at 1 o'clock today in the ballroom of the Alexandra Club by the acting Premier, Hon. W. J. Bowser, and members of the Executive Council. Hon. W. J. Bowser will preside, and at the same time Mrs. Bowser will act as hostess at a luncheon to be given the lady visitors connected with the congress in the tearoom of the club. Covers will be laid for about thirty. In the afternoon, from 4 to 6, the delegates will be the guests of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Paterson at Government House.

Sidney's Public Building—Mr. W. F. Teetzel, of the Dominion Public Works Department, has visited Sidney for the purpose of looking over the proposed sites for the new public building to be erected at that town by the Dominion Government. Statistics gathered by the painstaking Germans say that there were in Europe at the last count more than 7,000 persons over a century old.

HEAVILY FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Mr. Francis Wright Pays $300 Fine as Result of Saturday Afternoon's Accident on the Goldstream Road.

Driving a motor car while under the influence of liquor was the charge preferred against Mr. Francis Wright, of Sooke, in the Provincial police court yesterday afternoon. The action was the outcome of an accident which occurred on Saturday afternoon at about 4:30 o'clock when Mrs. Paul Wicham, Miss Delilia Blanchard and the latter's young sister, Josephine, were thrown out of a rig on the Goldstream road between the Four-Mile House and Parson's Bridge. All received serious injuries, the two ladies each having their left arms broken, the girl being badly bruised and shaken. The hearing took place before Magistrate Jay. The evidence showed that the defendant had been drinking, and that it was as a result of the erratic course he was taking that the mishap occurred. He was convicted and fined $300.

Mr. H. W. R. Moore had charge of the prosecution. He produced as witnesses Mr. B. Blanchard, a Goldstream teamster, who was in the vehicle into which the automobile crashed, and the police officers responsible for Mr. Wright's arrest, as well as Jailor Abbott, who saw the defendant shortly after the accident. Mr. Blanchard said that it happened between the Four-Mile House and Parson's Bridge. In the rig with him were Mrs. Wichman, and on the back seat his eldest daughter, Miss Delilia, who was returning after treatment at the hospital, and who carried the child. At about 4:30 his attention was attracted by the noise of an approaching automobile. He noticed that it was running from side to side of the road and, in order to be out of the way, the wagon was crowded to the left side as far as it could go. The next he knew the motor collided with the front wheels of the rig, pushing it from beneath its occupants, and throwing the women and child to the ground.

Answered Call

Witness stated that Mr. Wright stopped a short distance further on, and he called to him for help. The accused came, and, Mr. Blanchard declared, it then was apparent to him that he was decidedly under the influence of liquor. Mr. Wright took hold of the horse, while witness attended to the women. Mr. Meston at that minute came along in an automobile, and he placed all the women folk in his automobile and came with them to the city to see that they received proper medical treatment as soon as possible.

Cross-examined by Mr. Oscar Bass, who appeared for the defence, witness said that he had never driven an automobile. He denied that the road where the accident happened was bad, or that it was covered with gravel. He had seen motor cars driven over gravel as straight as an arrow, but could not tell what the effect of such a road-bed, generally speaking, would have on the steering apparatus of such a car. In his judgment, the road at the point in question was thirty feet wide, and there was plenty of room for two automobiles to pass him without any trouble.

Constable D. McDonald, who made the arrest, told of going to the scene in response to a call and arriving there to find the defendant standing with his back to a work wagon. He was very much excited, and asked whether the injured women had been cared for. He also asked innumerable times that his wife be informed of the occurrence, being anxious that a message be sent her. Witness replied, when pressed as to his impression of the defendant's condition, that he was drunk. Jailor Abbott also gave evidence to the effect that Mr. Wright was in "a muddled state of intoxication." He stuck to this statement when pressed by Mr. Bass, declaring that he had seen plenty of cases, and knew.

Evidence as to Drinking

Mr. Wright, called on his own behalf, stated that he came to the city at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. He had had four drinks during the day, one in the morning, another at Colwood, another in company with Mr. R. White, of the Armstrong Garage, where he had taken his car, and the last alone. The two latter were taken at the Windsor bar. He denied that he was under the influence of the liquor he had taken, because he had the drinks at long intervals. He was driving a Ford car. The first he knew of the mishap was just after he passed the rig, the noise of the impact attracting his attention. Naturally he was considerably shaken and his nervousness was apparent to those about.

Capt. T. J. Goodlake, on behalf of the accused, testified to having seen him at Armstrong's garage at about 4 o'clock, when he was in a normal condition. Mr. J. S. Askey, of Brown & Cooper's store, where Mr. Wright went to make a purchase before starting for home stated that he was not intoxicated shortly before the same hour. Testimony of the same character was given by Mr. Robert White.

The magistrate, in passing judgment, explained the provisions of the Act. He pointed out that it was not necessary to establish that a man was drunk to render him culpable. If he was under the influence of liquor to such an extent that his head was not clear enough to permit him to safely handle a car he was guilty. Either a fine or a term of imprisonment, whichever in the Court's judgment was proper, was laid down as the penalty. Were it not for the circumstances of the defendant's family and his apparent keen regret, Magistrate Jay observed that he would be impelled to impose a term of imprisonment without an option. But he felt in this case that a fine would satisfy the ends of justice. However, it would have to be a heavy fine, and $300 was the amount imposed.

Since Taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets"

Mrs. J. Merkhuger, Waterloo, Ont., enthusiastically recommends Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets. Her experience with them, as she outlines it, explains why.

"I was greatly troubled with my stomach", she writes. "I had taken so much medicine that I might say to take any more would only be making it worse. My stomach just felt raw. I read of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and a lady friend told me they were very easy to take, so I thought I would give them a trial and really they worked wonders. Anyone having anything wrong with his stomach should give Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, they will do the rest. My stomach is fine now and I can eat any food."

One of the many good features of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is that they are so pleasant and easy to take. The relief they give from heartburn, flatulence, biliousness and dyspepsia is prompt and permanent. Try one after each meal—they'll make you feel like a new person.

COMMANDING OFFICER EULOGIZES TROOPS

Colonel Hall Speaks Highly of Way in Which His Men Have Performed Arduous and Delicate Duties.

Lieut.-Colonel John Hall, commanding officer of the troops in the mining area, was in Victoria for a short time yesterday and in an interview with a representative of The Colonist, stated that he wished to contradict a statement that had been made in a Vancouver paper with reference to the arrests made on Tuesday night, August 20, at Nanaimo. He had never issued any ultimatum to the meeting of strikers that unless they dispersed he would clear the hall out with the bayonet in two minutes. What had happened was this: The troops on returning from an outside point had surrounded the hall in which the meeting was being held. Colonel Hall's fear was that on learning of the presence of the troops a rush would have been made by the strikers out of the door, in which case, as it was necessary to hold them, firing by the troops might have become inevitable. He accordingly sent in to the leaders and took one of them round the whole line of soldiers showing him the utter folly of any resistance. That this was at first contemplated is clear from the fact that through the windows three of Colonel Hall's staff saw arms being distributed after the presence of the soldiers was first made known.

Colonel Hall sent back the leader of the strikers to tell the meeting that as long as there was no rush from the door for two minutes his men would not fire. This message was given and entirely understood by the meeting. They saw that the motive underlying it was to avoid any possibility of bloodshed, and when presently Colonel Hall himself appeared in the hall, they greeted him with a cheer. Colonel Hall, on being told that the meeting wanted to discuss the Jingle Pot mine, merely asked them not to keep him waiting too late, and cautioned everyone to obey promptly all orders given them when the meeting came to an end. He again explained to the leaders that resistance would be a crime, and the arrests were made as already described.

Speaking of the magnificent way in which the troops have been performing their duties, Colonel Hall instanced the first day of their arrival. They had done their ordinary day's work in Victoria on Wednesday, they paraded at 9 p. m. at the drill hall and did not get orders to go until 11. They started at 2 a. m., disembarked between 4 and 5 and got their first meal at Nanaimo at about midday, on Thursday. Directly after this they started on their journey to the Extension mine, and had a five-mile march at the end. Yet, though it was easy to see they were tired, they did their work smartly and well in finding the fugitives in the timber and inducing them to come out of their hiding places.

"There may have been some sympathy with the strikers among the troops up to that point," remarked Colonel Hall, "but after they had seen the half-clothed women and children, some of whom had been for as much as thirty-six hours in the bush without food, in terror for their lives, there was none from that moment on. The houses wrecked at the Extension mine stand there today as testimony to the acts of the strikers. Children's toys smashed up, the pictures on the walls smashed and left hanging, and hardly a thing left whole which could be broken. Anyone who disbelieves may go there today and see for himself."

"The strike leaders at Nanaimo came to me at midday on Thursday and warned me not to go to the Extension mine, as there was a body of 1,500 armed strikers on the road, who would dispute my advance. I told them thatt I should be starting at 2 o'clock, and that as long as I was in command of this body of troops that should be the only body of armed men in the Island. We went, and not a single armed man was to be seen along the road, though after the statements of the strikers' leaders at Nanaimo we expected to be attacked at any moment. The sight of the women and children whom the men of the regiments were feeding out of their own haversacks made a great impression on them and if there had been the slightest opposition encountered that night it would have gone had with those who made it."

CRICKET FOR COAST TITLE

Tournament Opened Yesterday—Cowichan, Oak Bay, New Westminster and Vancouver Are Winners.

The cricket tournament opened yesterday in glorious weather, and spectators witnessed many excellent performances. Four matches were played, and some fine exhibitions of batting and bowling were put up.

Cowichan handsomely defeated the University Incogs with a score of 313 to the Incogs' 76 and 62, thus winning by an innings and 175 runs. Oak Bay defeated the Burrards by a narrow margin; whilst New Westminster, who are newcomers to the tournament, beat Nanaimo, who are severely handicapped by the absence of several of their regular players. Vancouver hopelessly outclassed the Garrison, winning with a score of 349 to the soldiers' total of 114.

Special mention should be made of the manner in which Mr. H. R. Orr, the Oak Bay skipper, won the game for his side, pulling his team out of what seemed a hopeless position by taking the last seven Burrard wickets at a cost of only 4 runs apiece. Mr. Orr also contributed a very stylish 45.

Today's games will be:

New Westminster v. Oak Bay, at Work Point.

Albion v. Burrard, at Beacon Hill.

Vancouver v. Cowichan, at Jubilee.

University Incogs v. Victoria, at University School.

The captains of the teams are asked to see that all scoring books are left at room 301, Times Building, not later than 7 o'clock.

Oak Bay vs. Burrards

Oak Bay just managed to get home against the Burrards yesterday on the Jubilee ground by the narrow margin of 15 runs. At one time it looked certain that Burrard would win, for, with 120 on the board for 3 wickets, they only required 67 to win, and, again, with 166 and 3 wickets to fall, they still appeared to have the game well in hand. Orr, however, bowled with such great effect that he captured the last 8 wickets for 10 runs.

Oak Bay batted first, and Yeoman and Schwengers opened the innings. With 10 on the board, Schwengers was badly run out. E. G. Carr joined Yeoman, and runs came at a nice pace. With the score at 37, Carr was finely taken by Kellick behind the wickets. Orr followed, and played magnificent cricket until a low one from Beatson got through his defence. Yeoman quickly followed his skipper to the pavilion, and this was the signal for a general collapse. W. Speak and L. A. Guernay, however, came to the rescue, and, very late in the innings, put up a capital stand, scoring some 50 runs before being separated. The feature of the game before lunch was Kellick's wicketkeeping and Stark's fine work at cover point.

Beecham and Hood opened merrily for Burrard, Beecham contributing 24 out of 30 in quick time. Hood and Beatson continued to play good cricket, but the scoring was very slow until their partnership was broken up.

Twynham was the only other batsman to give a good account of himself.

Cowichan took the measure of the University Incogs yesterday at the University School, with a total of 313 to the Incogs' two attempts of 76 and 62. The Incogs' batting was extremely feeble, Sparks alone playing the excellent bowling of Bagrelle and Curgenven with any confidence.

The Cowichan men, on the other hand, seemed perfectly at home with University attack, Tracy alone capturing 7 wickets for 64 with his lobs. Curgenven played a fine bat for 69, and Hayward was conspicuous with 66. The innings of the day was that played by W. A. McAdam, who collected 83 in grand style.

Arthur, behind the wicket, stumped three men, and both he and Haywood kept grandly. The Incogs could not do better, at their second attempt only collecting 62 runs. Bagnell again bowled finely, capturing 6 wickets. His total for the day was 12 for 73, a magnificent performance. One of the features of the day was the brilliant fielding of J. F. Murphy for Cowichan.

Vancouver defeated the Garrison yesterday at the Work Point ground, with the fine score of 349, while the soldiers only managed to collect 114. Vancouver batted first, and N. Peters and F. Hurst opened the innings. Seventy-three runs were registered before the pair were parted. When Hodgson came in to continue the good work, not leaving until he had acquired 77. Peers, with 54, Webb with 26, and W. Hodges with 54, all played useful innings. For the losers, C. Hall played well for 49, while Askey contributed a useful 21. New Westminster, the newcomers to the tournament, beat Nanaimo by 38 runs on the Beacon Hill ground. The result was almost reversed and time alone saved New Westminster in the second innings. So well did Leighton and Hindmarch bowl, that at the Mainlanders second attempt they only collected 34 runs for the loss of 8 wickets.

MELBOURNE INMAN

World's champion English billiard player, who will play some local man at the Camosun Club next Monday evening.

CONTRACTS SIGNED FOR AMERICA'S CUP RACE

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Contracts between the New York Yacht Club and the Royal Ulster Yacht Club for next year's race for the America's Cup have been signed, sealed and delivered, and now nothing stands in the way of the contest. Official announcement to this effect will be made within a day or so. The New York Club is going ahead with its plans for the defence of the cup, and announcement will also soon be made as to the size of the boat which will meet Sir Thomas Lipton's 75-footer, Shamrock IV, as well as the owner or owners of the boat or boats to be built to meet her. That Sir Thomas will be met with a yacht of the same size as his own is believed to be a certainty, and that there will be at least three yachts striving in the race for the honor of defending is also practically assured.

Yacht Club Dance—A dance will be held at the clubhouse, Uplands Park, on Friday evening at 8:30, by the members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. The dance will be continued until 1 a. m., and a special car service has been provided. Tickets are limited to three hundred, and as a large crowd is expected, those intending to be present should secure their admission without delay.

MELBOURNE INMAN HERE NEXT MONDAY

Mr. G. W. Nicholson, secretary of the Camosun Club, has received word that Melbourne Inman, world's champion English billiard player, will be in Victoria next Monday, and will give an exhibition with some local man at the Camosun Club on the same evening. Other matches will probably be arranged for when definite word is received as to how long the famous billiardist will be in Victoria. It will be recalled that Inman played at the Camosun Club last year. He made a host of friends among local sportsmen on that occasion, and will be royally welcomed when he comes next week.

TRAINER FOR BAY RUNNERS

Mr. Butterworth Looking After the J. B. A. A. Track Men in Training Hours—Programme for Sidney Sports.

A step in the right direction has been taken in the acquisition of a veteran runner to coach the James Bay Athletic Association track and field athletes. Mr. A. Butterworth, recently out from Edmonton, who was in his day a prominent Old Country track man, is now looking after the boys in their training hours, and as a result of his efforts an improvement in the form of the local team may be brought about. That the Bay runners and jumpers can undergo some improvement without setting any rivers afire is a well-known fact, so that if Mr. Butterworth can only bring out the good average ability his charges undoubtedly have he will be doing all that can be expected of him.

Track Captain Hal Beasley has definitely decided to take three men to the Sidney sports next Saturday, making, with himself, the four needed for a relay team. Cliff Carroll and Percy Beasley are sure to go, and Hal thinks he will be able to prevail upon Gerald Kenning, a newcomer who has been showing speed, to make the trip.

Hal Beasley and half a dozen others are working out every evening at the Oak Bay track at 5 o'clock, and in addition to this Beasley himself is doing daily training in the mornings. This will put them in condition for the Sidney meet, but their chief incentive is the Canadian championships, which come off on September 6.

The complete programme of the Sidney sports is as follows:

1. 50 yard race for girls under 8 years.
2. 50 yard race for boys under 8 years.
3. 100 yard race for men.
4. 50 yard race for girls under 10 years.
5. 50 yard race for boys under 10 years.
6. 100 yard race for men, open.
7. 100 yard race for girls under 14 years.
8. 100 yard race for boys under 14 years.
9. Putting the shot.
10. Running broad jump.
11. Running high jump.
12. One and a half mile bicycle race.
13. 220 yard race, open.
14. 220 yard race, local.
15. 100 yard race, young ladies over 18 years.
16. 100 yard race, men over 40 years.
17. 50 yard race, fat men over 240 lbs.
18. Relay race, open.

A. reinstatement committee has just issued its first report for this season, and the list of players who have been reinstated as amateurs or whose applications have been refused contains the names of many well-known players. Those who have been refused reinstatement, in addition to A. G. Moore and I. Sharp, are: H. O. Badger (Brentford), R. Jack (Plymouth Argyle), A. Langley (Sheffield Wednesday), D. McWhirter (Leicester Fosse), W. S. Maxwell (Bristol City) and F. Wilkes (Tottenham Hotspur). The players who have been reinstated as amateurs include J. H. Linacre (Notts Forest) and W. I. Miecznikowski (Leyton).

WILLIAMS TO MEET CHAMPION

Norris Williams and Maurice McLoughlin Did Not Have to Exert Themselves to Get Into Final at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., August 25.—With comparatively little exertion R. Norris Williams, of Philadelphia, and Maurice McLoughlin, of San Francisco, won their place today in the finals of the all-comers' tournament for the National Lawn Tennis championship.

Those who fell before their racquets were Nathaniel W. Niles, of Boston, who lost to Williams in a four-set match, 6-4, 7-5, 3-6, and 6-1, and Wallace F. Johnson, of Philadelphia, who succumbed to McLoughlin in straight sets, 6-0, 7-5, 6-1.

Williams will try tomorow to wrest the title from McLoughlin, but not one person in four in the casino tonight thought sufficiently well of his chance to back him.

A large and eager gallery found both matches in the semi-finals today disappointing and uninteresting, considering the calibre of the players. Williams sized up the best that Niles had before three games had been played in the first set, and after the Philadelphian had secured a two-set lead he used the remainder of the match apparently for practice.

The McLoughlin-Johnson match lasted just a trifle over forty minutes. It started like a five-set affair, with deuce being called twice in the first game. But once getting his stride, McLoughlin pushed through point after point, and in the remaining five games Johnson carried off but six strokes, five of them on McLoughlin's errors.

DID McNEIL SMASH TWO WORLD'S RECORDS?

It behooves Victoria Amateur Swimming Association officials to be more careful in their measurement of the courses for future meets, and also to look well to the timing of the competitors. It may have been noticed by observant swimming enthusiasts that extraordinary times were set up in the mile and quarter mile races on Saturday. Prevailing conditions may have favored the swimmers, but they could hardly account for the bettering of world's records by outrageously large margins. It was given out that J. D. McNeil had swum the mile in 22 mins. 55 secs. The world's record for this distance was recently made by David Billington, of Bacup, England, who beat Oscar Dickman, of Australia, in a race for the world's professional mile championship in 24 mins. 11 1-5 secs. As far as can be ascertained from the records, the best time for the quarter mile is 5 mins. 19 secs. J. D. McNeil is credited with doing the distance in 5 mins. 1 1-5 sec. on Saturday.

Race Is Assured

AMERICA'S CUP

It was announced a day or so ago that a contract had been signed, binding the New York and Ulster Yacht Clubs to their agreement to race for the America's Cup in 1914. The New York Club at present holds the cup. Sir Thomas Lipton will build the challenger, which is to be called the Shamrock IV.

VALUE OF PLAYING AT PIN IN GOLF

One of the most valuable points suggested in his book on golf by Jerome D. Travers, the present amateur champion of the United States, is the emphasis he puts on the value of playing at the pin as differing from playing merely to reach any old spot on the putting green. "Jerry" says that following a professional match one day he noticed that they always gauged their shots so as to leave the possibility of holing out in one putt.

In all of my experience in following important golf matches for over twelve years I know of no two players who get so near the pin on the approach (regardless of distance) as Jerome Travers and Alec Smith, his teacher. It is simply weird to see how many times they get a chance for a three on a four-hole and a four on a five-hole.

For "Jerry" or "Alec" to play a shot of from 130 to 200 rifle ball straight at the pin perhaps a few yards short or long is more logical than to expect the average player to get anywhere on the green. When either or both of these two great players are in the vein of holing longish putts there is no one I have ever seen who can stand up against them.

The average player can just as well start building up a game with the pin as the object of all approaches as to go floundering on assuming that anywhere on the green will do, and that all shots getting within a yard or two of the cup are "luck."

To begin with, let the player consider that all shots from ten to fifteen feet off the edge of the green are nothing but elongated putts. Go at them with mid-iron, putting cleek or putter, as he will, but always try by making allowances for slopes and distance with the thought of holing them from off the green.

By a gradual process this line of thought and practice can be extended so as to include all sorts and conditions of going, even to and including the pitched mashie approach to the green over a trap. It is just as easy to have the pin as a definite object in mind as to go along satisfied to think of nothing else but the whole green as brain food.

In practice "Jerry," at his best, just holes out enough shots from off the green and lays enough of them stone dead to break the heart of anything with an ounce of blood in its veins.

SCHWENGERS NO LONGER CANADIAN CHAMPION

It may be news to some Victorians that Ernie Schwengers is no longer champion tennis player of Canada. He forfeited his title by failing to appear to defend it at Toronto recently. Baird, of Toronto, won the championship, defeating Ralph Burns in four sets, 6-2, 6-0, 4-6, 6-1.

The winner led from the beginning and showed accurate hard-hitting tennis worthy of the title he won. Burns played brilliantly at times, but was not as accurate as when he defeated Mayes, of Winnipeg, a Canadian Davis Cup man, in the semi-finals.

Easy Win for Australians

TORONTO, August 25.—By an innings and 147 runs the Australians defeated the All-American team at Rosedale this afternoon. The result was a foregone conclusion after stumps had been drawn on Saturday, when the Cornstalks led their opponents, with three wickets to fall, by 253 runs. It was a cas of "Too much Crawford," the ex-Surreyite dismissing four batsmen for 35 runs. He and Macartney bowled unchanged throughout the innings, and with the exception of Morris, none of the All-Americans could do anything with their deliveries.

May Call Off Match

VANCOUVER, August 25.—Unless Jim Griffin, of San Francisco, can be secured as referee, the world's lightweight boxing contest between Willie Ritchie, the present title-holder, and Freddie Welsh, the British champion, which is scheduled for the Brighouse Arena on Saturday, September [illegible]

BEES DEFEAT LYNCH TRIBE

Former Bee Manager Welcomed Back to City With Latest Charges—Spokane Indians Look Formidable.

League Standing

Portland	71	55	.564
Seattle	71	63	.530
Victoria	63	70	.474
Tacoma	59	76	.437
Spokane	54	77	.412

The fans gave their old friend, Mike Lynch, a hearty welcome to the city yesterday on the occasion of his taking the field with his latest charges, the Indians, against his former gang, the Bees. Mike takes great pride in the rehabilitation he has worked in the ranks of the redskins, and, to say the least, his success with the one-time hopeless tailenders has been marvelous; but they wenen't god enough to beat the oncoming Delmas men yesterday. The Bees won a clean-cut victory, 2 to 0, in a game replete with pretty fielding and effective pitching, but devoid of special features, such as abounded in the extravaganzas of last week. That the present series will be bitterly fought out seems certain, for, although nosed out, the squad from Spokane looked every bit as formidable as they have been cracked up to be. They are striving mightily to get up on the ground floor, and hope to effect their purpose at Victoria's expense, but as the Bees have in sight a first-division berth, Mike need not be astonished if he and his help are jostled a little roughly at times.

As far as actual pitching goes, Kantlehner was in better form yesterday than he has been for some time, but he wouldn't have had as many as seven hits chalked up against him if he had fielded his position properly. Two or three of the Indians' hits were very scratchy, and fast fielding would have made them "outs." However, there was no damage done, for "Kanty" was able to apply the "high sign" when it was most necessary to do so, and, outside of his own position playing, his support was as fine as silk. Only twice did the Indians get two men on bases, and then not until two men were down.

There was more difference between the work of Kantlehner and McCorry than the comparative number of hits indicates. Victoria's hits were, for the most part, clean drives, which, aided by some clever base-running—a departure from the usual for Victoria—enabled the Bees to earn a brace of counters. In the opening session Rawlings and Alberts singled and, with the former on third and the latter on first, worked a nifty double steal which scored Rawlings. Alberts might not have obtained his single had not Mike Lynch been inattentive to what was going on, for the ball could have been caught. It was a case of the "biter bitten." McCorry has a habit of shooting them over in quick succession in an effort to catch the batter of his guard. He tried the trick on Alberts, but the result was not what he expected. Alberts was ready and slammed the ball out to centre field, where Lynch was not ready. It was the first time that Lynch has been found asleep at the switch in the memory of Victorians. Charlie Swain pounded in Victoria's second run in the fifth, sending Alberts, who had walked, home with a two-bagger.

Today the ladies will be guests of honor at the ball park. It is ladies' day, and all fanettes will be admitted free of charge. The game starts at 3:30.

Welcomed by Mayor

The delegates were formally welcomed to Victoria by His Worship Mayor Morley, who spoke of the benefits which such an organization as the Ancient Order of Foresters conferred on humanity at large. He thought that in time to come the governments might see the value of doing a similar work. Until that happened, however, the fraternal organizations were necessary and beneficial. He wished the delegates every success during their convention.

Brother Rev. J. Thompson, of Court Nicola, replied, thanking His Worship for the cordial welcome he had extended, also expressing his admiration for Victoria. He also spoke of the great progress made by the order during the past year.

During the morning session the various reports of the district officers were read. These were after referred to the distribution committee and handed to the various committees to report on during the afternoon. A number of communications were afterwards read, the delegates adjourning the session at 12:30 for luncheon.

The convention reassembled at 2:15 p.m., when communications were received from Cranbrook Court, which at present is connected with the subsidiary High Court of Canada; also from other courts in Alberta, asking the district meeting of Columbia District to consider the advisability of forming a subsidiary High Court, comprising the Provinces of Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia. These communications were referred to a special committee to report later.

The district secretary also reported concerning the financial and numerical conditions of the district, his report showing a large increase both in finance and membership. The latter now stands at 3,350, showing a gain during the year of 806 members. During the year there have been organized in Nanaimo the first girls' court in Canada.

The distribution committee having completed its work, the various sections of its report were referred to the finance, state of the order, laws and juvenile committees, after which the convention adjourned at 3:15, to reassemble at 5 o'clock for the consideration of reports. The convention was called to order at 5:30, when the report of the laws committee was taken up and laid over until 9 o'clock this morning, at which time the convention will commence its morning session.

At the close of the morning session yesterday the delegates were twice photographed, once before the A. O. F. Hall, and again in front of the B.C. Telephone offices. In the evening they attended the Princess Theatre. This afternoon they will be motored round the city and adjacent points, and this evening at 8 o'clock a banquet will be held in the K. of P. Hall, North Park Street. The convention closes today.

TELLS OF NEEDS OF MILITIA FORCE

the same quality or the same more or less level appearance.

"They have quite an idea of how to fight, but they take too long to mount and dismount; they are slow in getting their led horses away and slow in bringing them up. There is far too much talking in the ranks, a fault which more than any other leads to confusion."

Sir Ian Hamilton says that he has been surprised by the standard attained by most of the militia artillery, though he remarks that in many batteries the detachments are not properly grounded in elementary gun drill. "Wherever the battery commander knew his business, the guns came into action creditably, and, when live shell was fired, the batteries got to their bracket, not quickly, perhaps, but often within reasonable time."

Where commanded by keen and capable majors, Canadian batteries, in his opinion, are effective units as they stand for active service.

Rural Corps

The infantry of the rural corps are described as not being given a fair chance, their training being insufficient. However, he describes them as having certain advantages over the city corps, and says:

"These latter suffer from the prevailing Canadian habit of preferring any other mode of locomotion to making an appeal to their legs, whose chief function seems very often to consist in standing at a street corner waiting for a car.

"Consequently the bulk of the city men need training in pedestrianism before they are fit for long marches.

"The rank and file of the rural corps can from the first day cover a great deal of ground; again, the rural corps are quite at home in a bivouac. Then, again, these farm hands are not cursed with nerves. Line them out upon a ridge and shrapnel them heavily for half an hour. They would continue to chew gum, hardly realizing that anything special is happening. Here we have a true military virtue. And this virtue at least, I am convinced myself, is possessed by the rank and file and indeed by all ranks of the rural corps."

He suggests pay for four additional days' training to be given at local headquarters.

Interesting suggestions are made as to reorganization of the instructional system, proposing the abolition of the present schools in favor of a system which will bring military education "to the militiaman's doorstep." In this connection he suggests the obtaining of non-commissioned instructors from the British army

AMUSEMENTS

The Life of Dante—A magnificent three-part historical drama, in which huge crowds appear in a most effective manner, will be shown at Majestic Theatre tomorrow and Thursday. The love scenes are put on with the utmost delicacy, and there is not lacking that distinctly tragic vein which runs through all of the mortal life of Dante. A splendid picture is seen of turbulent Florence, torn by factional strife, the scene showing the decree of banishment issued against Dante is impressive. Dante is seen as the friend of art in the company of Giotto, to whom the world owes the poet's classic profile. He is seen as a citizen and statesman, as a patriot and warrior on the bloody field of Campaldino; he is seen in exile, eating the bread of strangers. Moments of inspiration are shown with nice art. Among the many scenes which deserve special mention is the traditional visit of Dante to the see of Pope Boniface and his indignant remonstrance against his ideas and policies. Altogether, this feature is worthy of the highest praise, and is sure to please those who are fortunate enough to see it.

Dramatic Spectacle—Theatre-goers of Victoria will have an opportunity on Monday, September 1, to see at the Victoria theatre, Henry W. Savage's production of the dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," undoubtedly the largest and most lavish production of a musical or dramatic play which has ever been taken on tour. "Everywoman" partakes of the nature of drama, opera and musical comedy, and cannot be described by the ordinary classification of the theatre. While Walter Browne, the author, drew his inspiration from the ancient morality play, "Everywoman," this work in no way resembles the ancient allegory. It is bright, witty, and abounds in wholesome philosophy, and deals with people of the present day. The characters are so labeled that there is no doubt as to the intent of each from the moment of his first appearance. One hundred and fifty people are employed in the production, which comes here direct from a most successful engagement of three weeks at the Cort Theatre, San Francisco.

Princess Theatre—The name "Deep Purple," drew a large audience last evening to witness a play that for over a year has been widely advertised in magazines and dramatic papers all over the country. That the drama justified all the favorable reports preceding it was shown by the intense interest, and at frequent intervals, enthusiastic applause accorded it last night. "Deep Purple" is a melodrama, and though the plot is very unlike, yet in the style it is written, and the realistic manner in which the different situations are brought to a climax, it strongly resembles "Jimmie Valentine," both plays being of the same high order. Frisco Kate, a woman who has risen above her criminal companions, was played by Miss Page, and her championship and rescue of one of her own sex, was a well conceived piece of acting. Doris Moore, a young country girl, who through her love for a stranger from the city, has been led into great danger, received splendid treatment from Miss Graham. The part of William Lake, a young miner, gave Mr. Mitchell a chance to show how a big-hearted, unsuspecting Western man, would fare in a city like New York. Mr. Sullivan made an unscrupulous but polished villain, and Mr. Aldenn in the sympathetic role of Laylock made good.

HOLT STEAMSHIP NESTOR FOR RUN

Victoria Agents State That Biggest Blue Funnel Liner May Figure on Next Sailing Schedule.

BIG COMPANY AFTER PASSENGER TRADE

New Vessel Has Huge Carrying Capacity and Is Fitted With Increased Passenger Accommodation.

That the huge new Holt liner Nestor, Captain Bartlett, may figure prominently on the twenty-fourth sailing schedule of the Blue Funnel Line, was the statement made yesterday at the Victoria offices of Dodwell & Co., agents for the big British steamship corporation on the North Pacific Coast.

Although no definite advices have been received here as to which vessel the Nestor will replace, it is thought that it will be the steamer Cyclops, which is now steaming across the Pacific and is expected here on Saturday from Liverpool.

At the present time the steamships operated by the Blue Funnel Line from Glasgow and Liverpool to Victoria via the Suez Canal and Orient are: Talthybius, Antilochus, Ixion, Titan, Protesilaus, Teucer and Bellerophon.

Modern Ships on Run

In the past two years the Blue Funnel Line has built up an enormous trade between Great Britain, China, Japan and the North Pacific Coast, and the larger percentage of the most modern ships, owned by the Holt Company, are now operating in this service. With the huge cargoes coming to ports on this Coast and the equally huge cargoes awaiting the arrival of every liner for shipment on the return voyage, the company soon realized that the trade was worth going after, and the result has been the gradual elimination of the older and smaller freighters, which have been replaced by such modern craft as the Talthybius and Ixion, the newest vessels on the Liverpool-Victoria route. With the Bellerophon, the Cyclops is the oldest of the fine fleet of vessels now coming to this Coast. Both these vessels are splendid cargo boats but have no passenger accommodation, except in the steerage.

After Passenger Trade

Now that the Blue Funnel Line has established itself in the steerage trade between the Orient and this Coast, it is no secret that the owners intend to secure a good share of the better class passenger traffic. This is clearly indicated by the placing in the service of such boats as the Talthybius, Protesilaus and Ixion, in the service, all of which are equipped with first-class cabin accommodation on the bridge-deck.

It was the original intention of the Blue Funnel Company to place the big liner Nestor in the Pacific Coast service, but as she was not completed in time the fine steamship Ixion was dispatched in her place. The Nestor is now making her maiden voyage between Glasgow, Liverpool, London and Australia, and will be back on the British Coast prior to the return of the Cyclops. The Nestor is a vessel of 9,100 net tons register, and in addition to being equipped with cargo space for the stowing of over 20,000 tons of cargo, is fitted with first-class accommodation for about 100 passengers.

The Cyclops is now rapidly nearing the Pacific Coast with about 12,000 tons of freight and about 200 Chinese steerage passengers, and she is looked for on Saturday morning. On her second voyage to Victoria the steamship Ixion left Liverpool on August 17 and will arrive here during the latter part of October.

THODE FAGELUND DAMAGED

W. R. Grace Freighter in Collision With German Bark Thielbek on Columbia

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 25.—The Norwegian steamship Thode Fagelund and the German bark Thielbek collided bows on in Astoria Harbor at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, according to advices received by Capt. Veysey, Lloyd's surveyor at Portland. Capt. Veysey left immediately for Astoria to survey the damage.

The bows of the Thode Fagelund were badly smashed in the collision, and her forward hold is filled with water. The Thielbek's bows also were badly stove in.

The Thode Fagelund, in charge of Capt. M. Nolan, was bound outward for Balboa. In her cargo were 1,037 cases of dynamite, which did not explode.

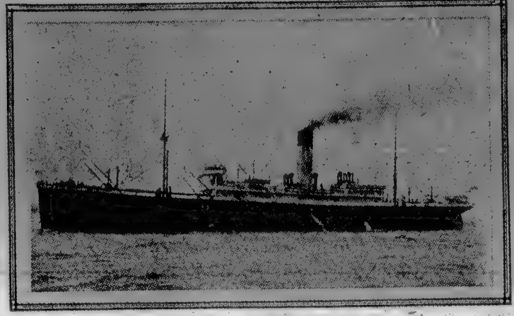

The Thielbek was bound for Portland, under charter to load grain. She was in tow of the tug Ocklahoma, Captain Pears, and the force of the collision tore the towboat bodily away from the bark. The vessels' bows were so forcibly jammed into each other that they could not be separated from each other for several hours.

To Command Celticburn

To assume command of the British bark Celticburn, Captain W. H. Dernier has arrived in the city from New Brunswick. The Celticburn, which now lies in Esquimalt Harbor, will leave port shortly for Puget Sound to load Fall wheat for the United Kingdom. She will be the first vessel to get away from Puget Sound with the new season's crop.

A. O. F.—All members of the Ancient Order of Foresters are invited to attend a banquet to be held on Tuesday, August 26, at 8 p. m., in the K. of P. Hall, North Park Street, in honor of the delegates to the Annual District Convention.

HUNTSMAN MAKES FAST TIME OUT

Harrison Direct Liner Is Now Steaming Up the Pacific for Victoria—To Ship Lumber at This Port.

With Victoria as her destination, the Harrison Direct liner Huntsman is now steaming up the southern Pacific, and by the end of the week should be off the coast of California. Her first port of call on this coast is San Pedro, for which port and San Francisco she has several thousand bags of coffee, loaded at Santos on her way out from Liverpool.

The Huntsman was last reported having sailed from Punta Arenas, Magellan Straits, on August 15. She is making her first visit to this port. The Huntsman is a vessel of 7,460 tons, and is one of the largest steamers that the Harrison Line have yet dispatched to the Pacific coast.

R. P. Rithet & Co. announce that the Huntsman, after she has discharged several hundred tons of general cargo here, will load 25,000 feet of choice spruce, which should have been taken by the Crown of Castile. At the time the Castile was in port the full shipment of lumber had not been cut, and it was decided to leave it over for the next regular steamer.

The Crown of Castile left port on Sunday for Vancouver to complete discharging cargo. Toward the end of the week she will go to Seattle for bunkers and then shift to San Francisco to take aboard 6,000 tons of canned fruits for United Kingdom. The steamship Architect, which is the next Harrison boat in line, is now at Santos, Brazil.

LEELANAW LIBELED

Steamer in British Columbia Service Plastered for $8,875 While on Sound

On her arrival in Seattle, the steamer Leelanaw was libeled in the Federal court for $8,875 by the Western Alaska Steamship Company, which formerly had the vessel under charter.

The libellant asserted that the master of the vessel had refused to carry out instructions, causing a loss totaling the amount of the libel. The trouble was said to have arisen chiefly over the voyage made by the Leelanaw into the Arctic Ocean in September, 1912.

According to the complaint, the vessel was unseaworthy, and water leaked in to such an extent that the cargo was damaged greatly. Of this damage, $750 had been refunded by the owners of the vessel, the steamship company alleged, and $933.23 was still due to them.

On the last voyage of September, 1912, the master of the vessel took her into the Arctic, it was asserted, with cargo for various ports. Instead of unloading the vessel, the complainant declared, he refused to remain at Keewalik, but pulled out and headed for Nome, carrying with him 350 tons of coal and 70,000 feet of special dredge lumber.

As a result of his action, the libellant said, the coal was sold at a loss of $1,498.05 and the failure to deliver the lumber was compromised at a loss of $5,395.78. Other items contained in the libel included lighterage for the lumber, $588.20; agent's expenses, $256.95, and cable tolls, $153.16.

RUSSIAN LINE DUE THIS FALL

Vessels of Russian Volunteer Fleet Preparing to Leave Vladivostok In New Service to This Coast.

Early this Fall will see the first arrival of the Russian Volunteer fleet, as the management of the big Far Eastern company has completed arrangements to open a regular service between Vladivostok, Victoria, Vancouver, Tacoma and Seattle.

The steamers St. Petersburg, Saratoga and another vessel will be placed in service on the new route. The service will be once every six weeks. According to word received from Hongkong, the Russian company later proposes to extend the line to San Francisco. In fact, round-the-world service is projected upon the opening of the Panama Canal.

The volume of cargo carried between ports on the Pacific Coast of North America and Russia has not been very large in the past, but recently a remarkable increase was witnessed, especially in the imports of agricultural necessaries from this Coast into Siberia, and also in the exports of lumber and beans from Siberia into America.

At present the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Osaka Shosen Kaisha steamers transport such kinds of cargo both ways, transhipment being done from or to Vladivostok liners either at Koke or Tsuruga. Therefore, upon the opening of the direct Russian service, the Japanese lines will lose what has heretofore been a very profitable trade.

CAPTAIN BARTLETT

NIPPON BOAT HAS FULL CABIN LIST

All Accommodation Aboard Japanese Steamship Yokohama Maru Will Be Taken Up When She Sails Today.

With all her cabin accommodation taken up, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Yokohama Maru, Capt. Wada, will sail from Victoria this afternoon for the Orient.

There will be aboard a party of fifty Japanese tourists, who are visiting friends and relations in the Far East; the University of Washington Baseball Club, with Choichi Ikeda, who will act as interpreter to the club, and Mr. Ralph A. Horr, graduate manager of student activities at the university, in charge, and a party of Japanese who are making a tour of the world.

In addition, the Nippon liner will take heavy shipments of flour, wheat, machinery and general merchandise, totaling about 8,000 tons.

Among the passengers will be Major and Mrs. E. W. Comyn, an attache of the British embassy at Hongkong, who is returning to his post of duty at Hongkong; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Johns, of Oil City, Pa., bound for Manila; Mrs. A. H. Rolfe, who is returning to Yokohama after a visit at Portland; K. Ide, T. Matsuda and Yanagita, around the world tourists from London; T. S. Knecht, of Ellenton, Pa., and Miss M. Henehan, who will make the round trip. T. Nishizawa is in charge of the party of fifty tourists, and will accompany them on their home-going excursion.

Sanuki Gets in Touch

Inbound from the Orient, the steamship Sanuki Maru is expected to reach port early on Wednesday. The vessel has fifty passengers for Victoria and sixty-nine for Seattle, 370 tons of general freight for this port and approximately 3,000 tons for Puget Sound.

The Sanuki Maru, as part of her cargo, is bringing 1,900 packages of raw silk and silk goods, valued at about $950,000.

Word has been received by R. P. Rithet & Co. that the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Chicago Maru, Captain Goto, which left Yokohama on August 20, is steaming light on the present voyage.

She has but 200 tons of freight and seven passengers for this port, and her cargo and passenger list for Puget Sound are correspondingly light. The Chicago Maru is scheduled to reach here September 4, but, as she is not heavily laden, the chances are that she will make port on the afternoon of September 3.

The N. Y. K. steamer Shidzuoka Maru is due to clear Yokohama tomorrow with passengers and Oriental freight for Victoria.

The time use is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of the water on the sill of the drydock at any tide, add 19.0 feet to the height of high water as given above.

VANCOUVER FIRM BUYS WRECKED CURACAO

Pacific Coast Steamship Company's Vessel Purchased by Vancouver Salving and Dredging Company

The wrecked steamship Curacao, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, which lies at Warm Chuck, about thirty miles from Fish Egg on the west coast of Prince of Wales Island, where she struck an unchartered rock on June 21, has been purchased by the Vancouver Dredging & Salvage Company. Divers will be dispatched to Warm Chuck this week, where the work of raising the vessel or salving her equipment will be commenced.

The Curacao is practically submerged at high tide, only a part of her pilot house and smokestack being visible. No attempt was made by the underwriters to raise the vessel on account of her condition, and she was sold as she lies at Warm Chuck.

The Curacao was a steel steamship, 241.3 feet long, 30.05 feet beam and 16.3 feet in depth. She was built at Philadelphia in 1895.

CHARLOTTE ON VICTORIA'S RUN

Big Gulf Ferry Resumes Service After Short Lay-Over—Maquinna Temporarily Withdrawn From Service.

Taking up the run of the Princess Victoria, the Princess Charlottte, of the C.P.R. triangular fleet, left port yesterday afternoon for Vancouver, proceeded to Seattle last night and will return to Victoria early this morning on the regular schedule from the Puget Sound. It is the intention of the C.P.R. Company to give the Princess Victoria a two-day lay-over, during which time her interior fittings will be overhauled and the exterior given a new coat of paint.

The relief steamer Princess Adelaide is now maintaining the 4:30 p.m. sailing to Seattle, and will continue to do so until the resumption by the Princess Victoria, when she will return to the direct Vancouver route.

To help out the Princess Royal, the northern steamer Princess Sophia, on her southbound passage, will transport part of the second contingent comprising the International Geological Congress from Vancouver to Victoria. Both boats will reach this port early this morning.

Maquinna Comes Off Run

Also this morning the steamer Princess Maquinna is due to return from the West Coast of Vancouver Island, and upon her arrival here will be temporarily withdrawn from that service, being scheduled to sail to Alaska on Thursday with the members of the International Geological Congress. While she is in the North the Princess Maquinna will be replaced on the Vancouver Island run by the steamer Tees. With the members of the Indian Commission on board, the C. P. R. steamer Queen City has arrived at Bella Bella. After loading 150 tons of coal at Union Bay for Government steamers at Prince Rupert, the freighter Princess Ena is due at Vancouver today to complete loading, and will sail either tonight or Wednesday morning for the North.

For Prince Rupert

When the G.T.P. steamer Prince George cleared this port yesterday morning, she took out the following passengers for Prince Rupert and Stewart: Miss Gladys Fulton, J. G. Johnston, D. Woolsey, J. C. Page, J. H. Huggard, W. Reade, H. E. Morris, M. Burdick, D. Robertson and H. E. Newton.

Explosives as Aid to Tillage

A series of experiments under the direction of the Edinburgh and East of Scotland College of Agriculture have recently been executed to demonstrate the use of explosives as a means of breaking "hard pan" and other impervious subsoils in nurseries. The experiments took place three miles south of Edinburgh. The first trial consisted of firing explosives charged with polarite. These were placed five feet apart and 2 1-2 feet below the surface. In the second trial explosives charged with gelignite were placed six feet apart and three feet three inches into the ground. The concluding blast, charged with 10 cartridges, was a very powerful one, and in exploding it threw large stones and pieces of clay high into the air. But those explosions which caused the least disturbance of the surface of the soil were considered the most effective, the greater part of the force having been spent beneath the ground, breaking it up.

Effect of War on Jerusalem

Owing to the war, and the consequent falling off in the pilgrim and tourist traffic, on which Jerusalem mainly subsists, says the British Consul at the Holy City, Mr. P. J. C. McGregor, in his annual report, business was unusually slack and great distress prevailed, aggravated for some time by a financial crisis which was brought about by a glut of small coin imported by native speculators from Tripoli and Macedonia. The main local industry of Jerusalem is the production of souvenirs and articles de piete in olive wood and mother-of-pearl. The last-named industry has hitherto been a specialty of the inhabitants of Bethlehem, but it is now carried on to some extent by Bethlehemites established in Paris, who send their goods to Jerusalem for sale.

Russian Ministry of Sport.

TURKISH FISHERMAN AVERTED MASSACRE

Made His Escape From Kavala In Small Boat and Warned Greek Fleet of Plans of Retreating Bulgarian Forces.

Here is a dramatic story of the war which shows how a brave Turkish fisherman saved the town of Kavala from massacre by the retreating Bulgarian army. It is a graphic sidelight on the horrors due to the reopening of the war.

"I have heard from an eye-witness most striking and picturesque details as to the way in which Kavala was saved just in the nick of time from fire and slaughter," says the Salonica correspondent of The Telegraph. "The mass of the Bulgar army, in danger of having its retreat cut off from the north, had evacuated the town, leaving behind only a small force of 300 men, commanded by a lieutenant, with orders to burn and sack the town next day. The terrified people had hidden themselves in their darkened houses, behind locked doors and barred windows.

"Rumors had gone about that the garrison quartered in the fortress overlooking the town was laying in large stores of petroleum, and that bayonets were being sharpened and guns loaded. There was nothing to hope for or to do; only with unavailing curses and prayers await the coming of death in its most hideous form.

Makes His Escape

"Through the pitch-black streets a Turkish boatman crept down to the port. No boat was allowed to leave the bay, patrols faced the quay, searchlights flashed over the still and silent waters. Very quietly, lying flat on the grey stones, he loosened his little craft, crawled in, and, with muffled oars, pulled away. None heard him, and the searchlight plying all around left him in darkness. It was, says he, as if a great hand were stretched over him, and its shadow lay around his boat.

"He cleared the bay, and with all his might and main bent to his oars. Far across the sea, eighteen miles away in the Bay of Thassos, lay the Greek fleet. Through the long hours of the night he rowed, heedless of aching arms and limbs, rowed for his life and the lives of thousands who lay behind him in the quaking town. In the early morning the port of Thassos opened before him. The great ships were there, always under pressure, straining at their anchors.

"With a last effort he pulled up to the side, and the startled sailors hanging over the gangway heard a cry of warning, a cry for help, rise up into the night. 'For the sake of Allah and for the sake of your God, come quick, for at the sunrise the Bulgars sack the town.'

"At morn a thick column of smoke rose behind the promontory. What could it be? With beating, shaking hearts they watched the nose of a ship creep round the corner, a long, low, grey thing with protruding guns and funnels vomiting smoke.

The Greek Fleet

"It was a destroyer. At the stern floated something they could not see. Yet, God in Heaven, it was blue with a white cross! The next instant the bell was clanging out a crazy, jerky peal, and a frantic creature was tearing down the streets shrieking, 'The Greek fleet; The Greek fleet!'

"In one moment shutters were let down, doors burst open, and a shouting, sobbing crowd rushed down to the sea. The destroyer had stopped, a boat was lowered, the captain was rowed ashore. He had hardly time to touch the ground before fifty strong arms had caught him up and, 'with weeping and with laughter,' carried him shoulder high through the cheering streets, whilst behind him, contentedly nodding his red-fezzed head, unobtrusively walked the simple Turkish fisherman who had saved the town."

AGRICULTURE IN IRELAND

Statistics Show 1,073,238 Persons Were Engaged in Farm Work Last Year

A report on the numbers and earnings of Irish migratory agricultural laborers, the wages of agricultural laborers, and the number of persons engaged in farm work, and other matters concerning Irish agriculture has been prepared by the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland. The report states that there has been a very considerable decrease in the number of Irish migratory agricultural laborers who have visited Great Britain in recent years. The number of laborers who migrated in 1912 did not probably exceed 16,000. In previous years the figures were estimated to number 15,500 in 1911, 18,500 in 1910, 20,000 in 1909, 22,500 in 1908, and 24,000 in 1907.

The principal source from which the migratory laborer comes is County Mayo, the largest numbers being from the Poor Law Unions of Swinford and Westport. There are considerable numbers also from Galway, Roscommon and Sligo. Of the 9,317 migratory laborers about whom information was obtained at their homes in 1912, 7,250 did not hold any land. 323 had holdings not exceeding five acres, and 1,644 had holdings of over five acres. Of the 7,250 landless laborers, 5,902 were sons or daughters of farmers. It is estimated that the savings of Irish migratory laborers in 1912 approximated $950,000. For many years there has been a marked scarcity of agricultural labor in Ireland, and this has been accompanied by a loss in efficiency. The best labor has left the country.

The number of persons engaged in farm work in Ireland on June 1, 1912, was 1,073,238, of whom 789,658 were members of farmers' families; 160,519 other permanent laborers, and 122,761 temporarily employed. Taking the country as a whole, the evidence goes to show that the average wage of the agricultural laborer in Ireland is the equivalent of about 12s. 6d. per week.

BURIED GOLD IN INDIA

Bulk of Hoarded Wealth Hidden in the Ground—Sovereigns Used as Centre for Window

It is remarked that the bulk of hoarded wealth in India is buried, so that at the present time nearly all the gold dug from the earth in South Africa is by a fresh, digging operation deposited again beneath the soil in South Asia.

The strange uses to which gold is put in India are referred to by The London Chronicle. Consumption of gold does not imply in England the actual swallowing of extremely thin gold leaves for medicinal purposes, but it is pointed out that it is so taken in parts of India. A frequent form of piety is to regild the domes of religious buildings, and such operations can easily absorb $50,000 or more. Sovereigns with a shield on the obverse are in constant request, and an inquiry as to the ultimate use of certain shipments of some thousands of pounds revealed the curious fact that a rajah had imported them to form a centre to each minute pane in the windows of his palace.

The Government carried out the large purchase of silver required for the Indian coinage as to utterly checkmate the speculators who hoped for large profits through the establishment of a "corner" in the metal.

"No one," says a circular, "had even a suspicion until months after the event that the Indian Government had, with foresight, been securing gradually a stock of silver for the purpose of coinage. On the last occasion when silver coinage for India on a large scale became necessary, such a rise in price had been brought about that it was eminently desirable to maintain secrecy to the last moment, especially in view of the fact that a powerful group of speculators, whose adroitness was a byword, had been on the pounce for years with appetite sharpened by long waiting."

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 25.—Before the Lusitania sailed on Saturday Lord Strathcona said he intended spending only two days on the other side, and that his trip had no official significance.

Mr. Jerome at Sherbrooke

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 25.—The arrival of Mr. William Travers Jerome, Harry Thaw's old prosecutor, and the assumption by ex-Governor Pennypacker, Stone, of Pennsylvania, of the position of spokesman here for the Thaw party pending the coming of Mr. Robert O'Mara, the Pittsburg detective, were the chief developments of the day in Sherbrooks. In some quarters it is believed that Thaw's stay in Canada will be a long one, as appeals, if made, will take up much time.

Two Boys Drowned

NELSON, B. C., Aug. 25.—Crying piteously for help and endeavoring to cling to a companion who was compelled to throw them off in order to save his own life, Henry Harms and Otto Jung, two fifteen-year-old boys, both drowned within a short distance of shore at Renata, on Arrow Lakes yesterday. The boys were bathing and got out of their depth.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Stock Markets and Financial News

EARLY ADVANCE IN STOCK PRICES

Undertone of New York Market Is Strong—Mexican Situation Continues to Be Controlling Factor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—There was no expectation that today's movement in the stock would reveal ani definite conclusions on the part of the professional traders who have taken almost exclusive charge of the market lately. The relations between this country and Mexico are recognized on every hand as the most important factor in the present situation and there was a strong disposition not to make commitments pending the expected publication today of President Wilson's message on the subject.

In spite of the hesitancy which the course of the market denoted, the undertone was fairly strong and in the early trading there was a rather general advance. The day's news was not sufficiently important to extert a demand upon the values.

London was cheerful after the holiday and American stocks were generally higher there.

Bonds were steady. Total sales $1,200,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

MONTREAL STOCKS

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—The local stock market maintained a good undertone today, but business was very dull apart from rallies in Spanish River and Macdonald, both of which showed improvement under what was reported to be foreign buying, the former closing at 60 bid. Sellers were asking 70 at the close. Spanish River common finished ⅛ up for the day. Macdonald rose 4 points to 28 and after slipping off to 27¼ closed 27⅝ bid.

GRAIN MARKETS

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 25.—Wheat prices were weaker generally on lower European markets, good crop prospects and excellent harvest weather. Trading was light in options and practically nothing doing in cash wheat, waiting the movement of the new crop.

Oats and flax were easier.

Winnipeg wheat opened ⅛ lower and closed ½ to ⅝c lower. Minneapolis opened ⅛ lower and closed ¼c lower for all months. Liverpool closed ⅜ to ½ lower. Paris ½ higher to ¼ lower, Berlin ¾ lower, Budapest ⅜ lower and Antwerp unchanged.

Cash wheat was a shade stronger and closed ¼ higher for contract grades. Cash oats unchanged to ¼ lower, flax ½c lower.

Inspections on Saturday were 81 cars against 98 last year.

LONDON EXCHANGE

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Money was a shade harder and discount rates quiet today. The continent secured $1,000,000 and the Bank of England the remainder of the $6,000,000 gold from South Africa.

Mexican issues hardened and Paris bought Diamond and Copper shares, while a spurt in Chartered shares was the feature in the South African section.

Americans opened quiet and steady and during the forenoon advanced a fraction on the light covering. Later the market improved. The closing was steady.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter of Thanks

Sir,—I desire through the columns of your paper to express my sincere and heartfelt thanks to Mayor Morley, to Mr. Barrett, of the public market, and to all the citizens of Victoria for the very generous aid I have received in this city and the opportunity that has been given me for a new start in life. All through the week I have received numerous letters and messages with prayers and well wishes for my success. These have given me new hope and new courage for my future work. I shall send letters to my friends in Australia, telling them of the generosity of the people of Victoria that their kindness is not mere talk, but is shown by real practical Christian helpfulness to those who have fallen helpless and crippled in the battle of life. It is such acts of kindness as has been shown to me, a stranger, that makes one proud that he is an Englishman, keeps alive the spirit of loyalty to the old flag and makes the words "Hands Across the Sea" more than a meaningless phrase.

Climbing Mount Robson

Sir—Under date of August 12, The Calgary News-Telegram published an article which claimed to a dispatch from Victoria, with reference to the recent ascent made of Mount Robson by members of the Alpine Club of Canada at its camp below the massif, held from July 28 to August 9.

In this article, W. W. Scott, Deputy Minister of Public Works; D. N. McTavish; Prof. Fay, of Tufts College, Boston; Prof. Freeborn, of New York; Dr. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington; and Miss Mary M. Vaux, of Philadelphia, are credited with having made the ascent. None of those named made the climb, and Miss Vaux upon whose prowess special stress is laid in the said article, was not in the camp for more than one hour of the entire session.

The three ascents made on Mount Robson, with the object in view of reaching its summit, were confined to five men, of whom two were professional guides. Of the other four, W. W. Foster, Deputy Minister of Public Works for British Columbia, and Mr. A. H. MacCarthy, of Wilmer, B. C., were the only two who succeeded in making a complete ascent, led by the club's professional guide, Conrad Kain. The two who failed to make a complete ascent were B. S. Darling of Vancouver, and H. H. Prouty of the Mazama Mountaineering Club of Portland, Oregon.

The first attempt under Kain was successful, the party of three making the first absolutely complete ascent of the mountain. The ascent was made on one side and the descent onthe opposite side, thus making a complete traverse. On this occasion, one night was spent on the mountain at an elevation of 9,000 feet, without food or covering.

The second attempt, by Darling and Prouty, in charge of the Swiss Guide, Walter Schauffelberger, failed when within 400 feet of the summit, owing to the lateness of the hour and the fact that a storm was about to burst. To have been caught in it on the bare ice slopes at that high altitude, would in all likelihood have meant death to one or more of the party, and they were forced to retreat with victory in sight. On this occasion two nights were spent on the mountain at high altitudes.

The third and last attempt was made by the two guides accompanied by Darling and MacCarthy for the second time. The object was to ascertain a feasible route up the south face. Again storms interfered, and when ascending a steep ice ridge 500 feet from the summit, a fierce snow blizzard threatened to blow the climbers out of the steps in the ice by which they were ascending. So fierce was the storm that it was impossible to see ten paces ahead, and the flying ice particles blinded the men. Conrad, who can do anything possible in mountain climbing, and often what seems impossible, declined to go any further, saying that it meant death. With great difficulty and danger, a retreat was safely made. Notwithstanding, the object of the climb was attained, for the party joined on this south route with that previously made from the east, and so established the feasibility of an ascent from the east and south.

In a nutshell, the above are the actual facts of the three attempts made by the club at its recent camp.

The mountain is a difficult and dangerous one, rising to 13,068 feet in altitude above sea level. It is subject to very frequent wild storms which may arrive at a moment's notice. The entire summit is covered by ice and snow blown by fierce winds into grotesque shapes, making it extremely difficult to find a path through their labyrinths. The cold is excessive, and it requires the highest degree of physical endurance to make the climb and get down to safety in one day. Even this cannot be accomplished without ideal climatic conditions, as was found in the case of the first ascent made by the club's party. The accomplishment of the climb is, at the present time, quite beyond the physical ability of most women, and it is needless to say that no permission was given by the camp management to any lady climber to make such an attempt, and none was made by them. By and by, when a suitable shelter hut has been built high up on the mountain side, no doubt many ladies will succeed in reaching the summit, but at present such an attempt would be very unwise, and the club was not taking any chances of loss of life in this direction.

When it is known that to reach the absolute summit on the first ascent made from the club camp, Conrad Kain had to cut no less than sixteen hundred steps in snow and ice, of which six hundred were in hard ice, necessitating hours of patient waiting while this work was being performed, the difficulties will be partially understood. During this weary waiting, the frozen debris from the step-cutting was blown for hours into the faces and eyes of the climbers, and this fact alone exemplifies the great courage and determination necessary to attain success. That first climb took thirteen hours of incessant labor from the Robson Glacier, whence a start was made to the summit.

Credit should be bestowed where credit is due, and I shall feel obliged if you will publish this explanation of actual facts.

ARTHUR O. WHEELER,
Director, Alpine Club of Canada.

Noxious Weeds.

Sir—Amongst others I have had a notice served on me re noxious weeds and in default of destroying them, am liable to prosecution. May I be permitted to tell you that many of the vacant lots in the city are overrun with the weeds and should not the municipal authorities take some steps to have the weeds eradicated?

M. Poincare to Visit Spain

During the recent unofficial visit paid by the King and Queen of Spain to the President of France, the date of M. Poincare's visit to Spain was, it is understood, fixed for the beginning of October. The President will in all probability leave Paris on October 6, reaching Madrid via Hendaye and St. Sebastian on the following day. M. Poincare will return to France by sea, embarking at Cartagena on a French cruiser, from which, in the company of the King, he will pass in review the Spanish fleet. He will land at Marseilles on October 10 or 11.

Forty-three electric cranes, each with a maximum lifting capacity of three tons, are to be erected by the port of London authority to facilitate export trade at the Albert dock.
